New proposal not a dump, but would include hazardous materials

By JAYNE W. MILLER
WILMINGTON - New England Transrail (NET) is back with a vague new proposal to the Surface Transportation Board (STB) seeking a truck-to-rail facility that does not include municipal solid waste processing. However, the move seems more like an attempt to open a facility that falls within state and federal guidelines, particularly the Clean Rail Act, and perhaps later to seek a solid waste component.

In 2007 the STB issued a decision that would have allowed portions of NET's proposal for municipal solid waste processing to undergo exclusive review by that Board. NET had an active proposal at the time seeking a rail-based solid waste processing facility on the Olin Chemical Superfund Site. At the time the Town raised concerns that the "status of the on-going environmental investigation of the Olin site and the undocumented seismic loads that rail operations would impose on an unstable superfund site," wrote Town Manager Michael Caira in a memo to Selectmen made public Monday night.

The STB did not act on its 2007 decision because the surrounding controversy led to Congress passing the Clean Railroads Act (CRA) of 2008. That legislation limited the STB's jurisdiction and would require NET to apply for a "land-use exemption" in order

Election races set

By JAYNE W. MILLER
WILMINGTON - lengthy ballots kept town clerks across the state busy last night after polls closed in Tuesday's primary election, setting the stage for midterm elections and a vigorous gubernatorial race. Wilmington voters chose their candidates in parallel with district and statewide results and, though uncontested, Representative Miceli topped the ticket in every precinct he represents with more votes than any other candidate for any other office. Veteran Representative Miceli, with more than three decades in office, earned 849 votes in Wilmington and will be running for reelection to his 19th Middlesex district seat against Republican, and fellow Wilmington resident, Mario Marchese who won 606 primary votes. In Tewksbury Miceli won 1,252 while Marchese garnered 816. "I wanted to thank the people of Tewksbury and Wilmington again for their overwhelming vote of confidence and I will continue to serve your best interests as I have in the past," Miceli told the Crier while waiting for final election results at Wilmington Town Hall late last night.

Miceli noted that in a climate in which incumbents

Police foil plans

Police believe suspect was planning to rob Citizens Bank

WILMINGTON - Alert Police Work on Monday afternoon led to the arrest of a Boston man moments before police believe he was to rob the Citizen's Bank in Wilmington Plaza. Officer Eric Palmer was on patrol in the Shopping Center at about 2:15 p.m. on Monday when his eye caught sight of a Jeep backed into the angle parking located behind Citizen's Bank. Curiously, the Jeep was actually backed across the handicapped parking spots at the wrong angle. As the cruiser approached, the vehicle took off around the back of the bank and exited onto

Main Street from behind the CVS Pharmacy.

As Palmer approached the Jeep on Main Street he noted that the license plate was attached onto the wrong vehicle. He initially pulled the Jeep over on Main Street near Lloyd Road, but as soon as he exited his cruiser the Jeep took off at a high rate of speed. Palmer noted the circumstances of the improperly parked Jeep and the fact that the driver had an improper license plate attached and was now fleeing the area. Palmer believed that the bank may have just been robbed.

The suspect, later identified as James Ryan, age 46, of Boston, sped into Tewksbury before running off the road and crashing into a Verizon

Smooth school opening

Superintendent has big goals for new year

By JAYNE W. MILLER
WILMINGTON - Schools opened smoothly this year, setting the stage for the hefty goals Superintendent Joanne Benton plans to tackle before June.

Benton praised School Department staff calling it a "great opening." She especially recognized the significant efforts of bus drivers, custodians, and food service workers for their contributions to a strong start to the school year.

Before school began professional development trainings featured the new anti-bullying legislation with guidance from Middlesex District Attorney General Counsel Marian Ryan. Benton told the Crier that the training was well received by staff and it was a "great way to set a tone."

The training included bus drivers, custodians, food service personnel, and all staff because, as the Superintendent put it, "bullying often happens in hallways, busses, and recess - not as much in classrooms."

Benton is working toward three meta goals this year, the first of which is fully developing the anti-bullying policies within the district following guidance issued by the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education late last month.

"Bullying is not a school issue," said Benton. "It's a community issue."

To that end, the district will establish a committee from across the community to help develop the plan and educate parents. Parents will be needed to serve on the committee and those interested in participating should check the district's website for more information and contact information for the Superintendent. School Committee member Robert Hayes was appointed last week as the School Committee member on that subcommittee.

Writing a new strategic plan for the district marks the second major administrative initiative for Benton. The last five-year strategic plan, which creates goals and Discover, Connect, Give...

Library hosts Community Fair

By DANA BURNHAM

WILMINGTON - On Saturday, September 25, the Wilmington Memorial Library will host Wilmington's first Community Fair at the Municipal Parking Lot on

Middlesex Avenue, across from the Town Common. From 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., a variety of local organizations will be in attendance. As the event's motto says, this is a chance for Wilmington to Discover, Connect, Give:

Discover ways to Connect with others, and Give back to the community. By attending, residents will be able to find out what services are available here in town, find out about volunteer opportunities, and donate to local charities.

The idea for a community fair emerged from a staff brainstorming session a few years ago, when the library was looking for ways to not only be more connected with the community, but also to take a leadership role in community building. The timing wasn't right when the idea was first developed, so the library made the hosting of a community fair part of its long-range plan. Accordingly, the staff determined when

A look back at Wilmington of yesteryear...

The McMahon family throughout the years

By LARZ F. NEILSON

WILMINGTON - The name McMahon has been prominent in Wilmington for well over a century. There have been McMahaons living in Wilmington since shortly after the Civil War. Members of the McMahon family were key to the founding of St. Thomas Catholic Church.

Graduates of Wilmington High School throughout the 50's, 60's and 70's certainly know the name of Bernard McMahon, who was principal for a quarter century. What they might not know is that Mrs. Eleanor Day, the school secretary, was also a McMahon, a first cousin to the principal.

Louis McMahon was one of Wilmington's first water commissioners. He also served as a library trustee and a cemetery commissioner.

Today, there is Lt. Joe McMahon on the Wilmington Fire Dept. His grandfather, Joe McMahon was the local bank manager and undertaker.

Thomas McMahon came to Wilmington in 1874 from Carrickmacross in County Monahan, Ireland. He boarded in North Wilmington, at a house that became known as "The Shamrock." Built in the early 1700's, it was also known as the Squire Eames house, and later as the 1730 House. It stood where the North Wilmington office of the Reading Cooperative Bank now stands.

Across the street, where the Registry of Motor Vehicles is now, was the Perry and Cutler Tannery, later Harriman's. The Irish immigrants boarding at The Shamrock all worked there.

The Shamrock was operated by Susan McEnroe, a sister to James E. Kelley, who later became town clerk. She was born in Belfast and crossed the Atlantic in a ship that was wrecked off the coast of Newfoundland.

Tom McMahon was not the first in his family to emigrate. Two older sisters, Kate and Mary, had come to Boston, and they sent money home for others to come, too. Tom was followed in about five years by his brother Michael, and then Peter. They all headed for the Shamrock and got jobs in the tannery.

On July 4, 1880, Tom married Isabella McEnroe, the daughter of his landlady. The couple first lived at The Shamrock. Like several other people in Wilmington, Tom went into the meat business, selling from a wagon. Eventually, they were able to buy the Deacon Skilton house, which stands on Middlesex Avenue near the point of Wilmington Town Common.

Early Catholic families in Wilmington had to attend church in Ballardvale, taking the train from North Wilmington. On Sundays, the parents would take their children to The Shamrock near the train station, where they would be in the care of the McMahon family or Jeremiah Doucette. They apparently share the honor of running the first Catholic Sunday School in Wilmington. When Tom and Isabella bought the Skilton house in 1884, the Sunday School was conducted there. The Rev. Maurice J. Murphy, O.S.A. of Andover visited the McMahaons and decided there should be a Mass celebrated there every Thursday. Tom McMahon offered an upstairs room, over the front door, and an altar was built there. On October 10, 1884, the first Catholic Mass in Wilmington was celebrated.

Tom and Isabella had six children, Mary, Louis, Elizabeth, Augustine, Rose and Joseph. Augustine "Gus" graduated from Boston College in 1913. He then studied for the priesthood. His first Mass was on April 1, 1917 in St. Thomas Church, located at the time across the street from his family home. The Wilmington Memorial Library is on that site today.

St. Thomas Church was begun in October 1887. It was dedicated on October 28, 1888. Until 1919, it was a mission of the Augustinian priests of Andover. In that year, William Cardinal O'Connell established St. Thomas as a separate parish for Wilmington, and Rev. Richard Boland was appointed as the first pastor. Part of North Woburn was added to the parish, and the church was enlarged in 1925. Father Boland lived on School Street and would walk to the church. After Mass, he would sit on the porch of the McMahon home and talk with Tom.

Tom McMahon's brother Michael bought the house at the corner of Middlesex Avenue and Glen Road, facing Wildwood Street. He married Annie McGrane. They had no children.

The third brother, Peter, married Annie McEnroe, Isabella's younger sister.

They first boarded with Tom and Isabella.

Peter worked at the tannery as a hand staker, meaning he staked the hides for tanning onto a wooden frame. Tannery work was not pleasant, nor was it easy. The pay was by piece work, and Peter worked harder than many others. He earned about $12 a week. He later also went into the meat wagon business, and became one of the first to use a motorized truck for delivering meat, a Model T Ford. They bought 41 acres on Middlesex Avenue, opposite Mystic Avenue, and built a house. Peter and Annie had eight children, one of whom was Bernard. "Barney" became the high school principal. A daughter, Winifred, worked in the school department office for many years.

Wilmington Cultural Council seeks funding proposals

Proposals for community-oriented arts and humanities projects due October 15th

WILMINGTON - The Wilmington Cultural Council has set an October 15th postmark deadline for organizations, schools and individuals to apply for grants that support cultural activities in the community. According to Council spokesperson Linda Molloy, these grants can support a variety of artistic projects and activities in Wilmington--including exhibits, festivals, short-term artist residencies or performances in schools, workshops and lectures.

The Wilmington Cultural Council will also entertain funding proposals from schools and youth groups through the PASS Program, which provides subsidies for school-age children to attend cultural field trips.

The Wilmington Cultural Council is part of a network of 329 Local Cultural Councils serving all 351 cities and towns in the Commonwealth. The LCC Program is the largest grassroots cultural funding network in the nation, supporting thousands of community-based projects in the arts, sciences and humanities every year. The state legislature provides an annual appropriation to the Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency, which then allocates funds to each community.

This year, the Wilmington Cultural Council will distribute about four-thousand dollars in grants. Previously funded projects include PASS grants to Shawsheen Technical High School, LCC grants to Wilmington Memorial Library, Wilmington Recreation Department, Wilmington Art Show, Wilmington Senior Center, vocal shows for seniors, and dance workshops.

Application forms and more information about the Local Cultural Council Program are available online at www.mass-culture.org/lcc.

REAL ESTATE PROS AND THEIR LOSSES

Most casual owners of real estate-a condo owner, say, whose property is managed by an association-are limited in the amount of losses that can be deducted against income by what are called passive loss rules.

But a real estate professional, someone who spends more than 50 percent of his or her working hours and 750 or more hours each year actively participating in real estate as a developer or landlord or such, can qualify for an exemption to those rules. But if there are multiple rental units, the owner would be wise to aggregate all of them as a single activity, in order to satisfy all requirements. That election should be made on the original return to avoid the passive loss rules.

Even if the individual has missed the deadline, up to $25,000 of rental losses can be deducted on actively managed property, though this allowance may be phased out if income is too high.

Special businesses have special tax rules. Let us help you follow all the requirements at and where to have the fair, and invited organizations to participate. Knowing that many locales celebrate their communities with fall festivals or fairs, the library chose a September date, and by a happy coincidence, it is the same date as Wilmington's 280th birthday. To celebrate the occasion, a cake made by the Shawsheen Valley Technical High School culinary students will be served during the event, along with lemonade.

Charlotte Wood, Assistant Library Director, said the library was happy with the great response they got, with more than twice the number of organizations participating than they had hoped. Those in attendance will be the Wilmington Community Fund, Access Is Mandatory (AIM), Wilmington Education Foundation, YMCA, Friends of Harnden Tavern, Friends of the Library, Knights of Columbus, Local Heroes, Merrimack Valley Chorus, Middlesex Canal Association, Mom's Club of Wilmington, Wilmington Recreation Department, Wilmington Rotary, Samaritans, Sons of Italy, Special Education Parent Advisory Council, WCTV, TOPS, Toastmasters, Wilmington Arts Council, Wilmington Farmers Market Association, and the Wilmington Garden Club.

In addition, there will be a ProShred shredding truck onsite at the Municipal Parking Lot for bulk shredding of paper items at no cost. This is a great opportunity to clean out your old files and dispose of them in a way that will ease your mind.

The Wilmington Food Pantry will be accepting non-perishable food items and Local Heroes will be accepting donations for local servicemen and women serving overseas.

In the event of rain, the Community Fair will be cancelled, although the ProShred truck will still be available for shredding.

A job well done

The job of police officers is to apprehend criminals. Understandably, more often than not, the apprehensions occur after the fact. Occasionally, however, through outstanding police work, officers are able to foil a crime before it has been committed. Such was the case, Wilmington Police and the Town Crier believe, on Monday, September 13, when Officer Eric Palmer observed suspicious activity outside the Wilmington branch of Citizens Bank.

On Monday afternoon, Palmer observed a Jeep improperly backed into, and across, handicapped parking spaces at the Citizens Bank in Wilmington Plaza. The location of the Jeep was, incidentally, next to a wall of the bank absent of any windows. As Palmer's cruiser approached, the Jeep took off behind the bank and entered Main Street from behind the CVS Pharmacy.

The editorial staff of the Town Crier, comprised - we believe - of reasonable persons, would consider that suspicious.

Palmer followed the vehicle onto Main Street and discovered that the Jeep was displaying a license plate that belonged to an entirely different vehicle. He pulled the Jeep over, but as Palmer exited his cruiser, the suspect fled at a high rate of speed.

The suspect will never make it as a NASCAR driver - he went off the road and crashed into a Verizon telephone box less than two miles away in Tewksbury.

Given the circumstances, Palmer made the assumption - reasonably, we at the Crier believe - that the suspect had just robbed the Citizens Bank and was desperate to avoid capture.

Not surprisingly, the Jeep had been reported stolen earlier out of Boston.

The Citizens Bank, as it turns out had not been robbed...yet. Police recovered a crumpled up robbery note behind CVS Pharmacy - directly in line with the route used by the suspect to exit Wilmington Plaza.

The editorial staff of the Town Crier, comprised - we believe - of reasonable persons, concludes that the suspect had every intention of robbing the Citizens Bank, had he not been interrupted by Officer Palmer.

The suspect, incidentally, is known to Wilmington Police. He was arrested in 1993 in connection with a housebreak on Woburn Street.

The suspect, one James Ryan, 46, of Boston, was charged by Wilmington Police with receiving a stolen motor vehicle, receiving a stolen license plate, intent to commit a crime; to wit: bank robbery, and a host of vehicle-related offenses.

It must be incredibly satisfying, as an officer of the law, to prevent a crime from happening; especially a crime like bank robbery that could have led to violence. It was an outstanding bit of police work, for which Officer Eric Palmer should be proud.

Regrettably, the Clerk Magistrate of Woburn District Court dismissed the charge of attempt to commit a crime; to wit: bank robbery.

During Ryan's arraignment, the Clerk ruled that - despite the suspicious nature of Ryan being parked improperly in a handicapped parking spot, and despite the fact that he fled when he observed a police officer, and despite the fact that he had a stolen plate secured on top of the legitimate plates on a stolen vehicle, and despite finding a robbery note - Wilmington Police did not have probable cause to charge him with attempting to commit a crime.

The legal standard of "probable cause," in general terms, is that the circumstances would lead a reasonable person to believe that it is more likely than not that a suspect committed a crime - or in this case, that the suspect had intent to commit a crime. It is a far lower threshold than "beyond a reasonable doubt," which is the standard used to convict a defendant in a court of law.

It is the opinion of the editorial staff of the Town Crier - comprised, we believe, of reasonable persons - that the charge was reasonable and should have been heard by a jury and judge.

The police in Wilmington and in Tewksbury are fighting a battle against ever-increasing instances of bank robberies, car-breaks, and housebreaks fueled by a climate of a weak economy and increasing heroin addiction. The Town Crier applauds their outstanding vigilance and perseverance. It must be terribly discouraging to see such fine police work summarily dismissed.

On behalf of a grateful community, the Town Crier offers gratitude.

In the most ironic twist in the matter, Ryan was held by Woburn District Court after the arraignment on a US Marshall's warrant...for violating probation on a prior bank robbery.

Dear Editor,
I am writing to you today because I felt it necessary to express my gratitude to Jim Miceli for all he has done for the towns of Tewksbury and Wilmington. I have personally worked with Jim since 1999 on environmental issues effecting both Tewksbury and Wilmington. I am a Wilmington Resident and the CEO of the neighborhood environmental group, T.O.X.I.C. Inc. (Townpeople Organized against Illness and Contamination). We work on the Superfund site known as Sutton Brook Disposal Area, a.k.a. Rocco's Landfill. Jim has been instrumental in the progress that has been made at this site. I know that we as a group would not have accomplished getting Rocco's listed on the EPA Superfund Site list if it was not for Jim's hard work. Jim has stood by us even when it might not have been in his own best interest. He has personally arranged for meetings with the heads of various agencies such as EPA, DEP, and DPH to bring the community and the agencies together to work as a team towards a common goal. Jim has accepted calls from me at midnight without missing a beat, to be there to listen and see what he could do to help the citizens. This is just one of the many sites that Jim has contributed to. I cannot put into words how I truly feel about Jim Miceli. All I know is he can always count on my support.

Thank you

To the Wilmington Fire Department:

The family of Merle Eastman, Jr. would like to thank all of you in trying to assist my husband in his time of need. We are very grateful for the respect he was given during his funeral service. The years he responded to the sound of the siren and the calls on the phone were some of the best memories he had in life. He loved the guys at the barn and was glad to be there to help those in need. Thank you. We are forever grateful.

Let's Hear it!!

Your Two Cents...

I applaud the mother of two for speaking up. Recently, I pulled into A1 Prime Gas on Main Street, picked up the nozzle, noticing .04 cents on the pump. I attempted to re-set the pump. After much back and forth with the gentleman inside with multiple hand signals, he finally turned the pump on.

When I went to pay, he accused me of stealing .04 cents. I tried to explain what happened. He wouldn't listen. Raising his voice, he told me that from now on, I would have to pay for gas before I pumped. I explained that I have been coming there for years; filling up three cars, never having a problem. He would hear nothing of it...and gruffly and loudly dismissed me.

After three weeks, I have filled all our cars elsewhere. The previous gentleman who worked there for a long time was kind, and easy to work with. In this economy, I am hard pressed to return. I am an honest hard working man with three children. I work far too hard and too long to tolerate his bullying, brash and ignorant behavior. It's unacceptable. Again, I applaud the mother of two.

TMHS SADD

TMHS Students Confront Destructive Lifestyles Turning darkness and sadness into a positive future

By Mackenzie King,
TMHS Senior
and member of SADD
TEWKSBURY - On September 29, 2010, Tewksbury Memorial High School will be host to guest speaker Lyn-Dee Eldridge. Sponsored by the SADD program and funded by the TMHS PAC, this presentation is one not to be missed. Lyn-Dee Eldridge is a motivational speaker and life coach who will be speaking to the students about the timeless topics of bullying and dating violence in her multi-faceted program entitled 'Stop Bullying,' and 'The Silent Crime - Domestic Violence.' Audience members will hear phrases such as: "Laughter is always the best medicine!" and "It's all about teamwork! Get on the Dance Floor!" to motivate kids and adults to let them know they are not alone in dealing with their problems. She promises to make her presentation fun, interactive and memorable. Eldridge's goal is to help students turn all of their hurt, anger, and darkness into happiness for a more productive future. This program is intended to help all students and adults overcome the challenges that they may face in all aspects of their lives. While her material focuses specifically on bullying, domestic violence and dating violence, Lyn-Dee's message is one that can be carried over into all areas of life.

Ensuring that her impact is a lasting one, Eldridge gives all audience members a little information packet - or their golden nugget, as she calls it - upon entrance to the auditorium. This is her way of letting viewers know that they are important and should be valued. Eldridge uses examples of pain and suffering from her own life experiences to prove and show audience members that their lives can be positive and effective.

For more information on Lyn-Dee Eldridge, visit her website at: <http://lyn-dee.com/>.

Sons of Italy and Italian Heritage Committee hosting golf tournament

WILMINGTON - In October, 1999, then Governor A. Paul Cellucci signed into law legislation proclaiming October as Italian American Heritage Month in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. To help celebrate this year's 12th anniversary, the Wilmington Sons of Italy, in conjunction with the Italian Heritage Committee, is holding its First Annual Italian American Heritage Month Golf Classic. This tournament, which will be held at the Hillview Country Club in North Reading, Massachusetts, will take place on Friday, October 22, 2010.

Golfers comprised of four men/women teams can play 18 holes with a golf cart at a donation of $125 per player. Golfers will enjoy a continental breakfast and a luncheon buffet. There will be contests on the course such as longest drive, straightest drive and closest to the pin, a 50/50 raffle hole, prizes for the top three teams and a gift for each player.

If golfing is not your sport, you can still show your support by becoming a course sponsor. Sponsoring a Tee Box or Hole is a donation of $100. Golf Cart sponsorships are also available for a donation of $50. Sponsors' name, business or organization will be prominently displayed on the golf course, in our public relation write-ups and announced during our luncheon.

Proceeds from this year's golf tournament will benefit our charitable and scholarship programs as well as assist our committee and our participating organizations in organizing and coordinating Italian cultural activities across the Commonwealth of Massachusetts during the month of October. Most of these programs are free and open to the public. Programs include Italian art, history, language, music, opera, food, dance and film. Our goal is to demonstrate the beautiful creativity of Italian culture and its influence on the world.

There will be a raffle at the luncheon to assist in fundraising. We would be grateful to receive a gift certificate or donation to help enhance our raffle table. Additional luncheon tickets may be purchased for a donation of $30.00 per person. To volunteer at the tournament or if you require further information, please contact Kevin Cairra at 978-657-7734.

Your generosity and support of our golf tournament is greatly appreciated.

YouTube personalities Walk from Obesity

LOWELL - Two of YouTube's most popular weight loss surgery personalities are now teamed up as part of the National Walk from Obesity event happening on Saturday, September 25th in Lowell. Together, they've lost over 300 lbs through gastric bypass surgery, and are two of the most popular personalities within the Weight Loss Surgery Community, representing New England as part of "Team Melting Mama."

"Diva Taunia" and "Melting Mama" know each other well from their online websites, forums, and radio show, although they'll be meeting in person for the first time at the Walk for Obesity. This is Diva Taunia's first walk, and she is joining Melting Mama's annual walking team to help raise funds and awareness about obesity.

Beth, otherwise known as "Melting Mama," is from Plymouth. She had RNY gastric bypass surgery on May 5, 2004 and has maintained a loss of over 150 lbs. Beth is the creator and popular voice of the Melting Mama blog, along with her Bariatric Bad Girls Club, and an additional site called Weighty Secrets. Her bariatric product reviews are often a first-stop for patients before purchasing, and her sarcastic and witty humor has gained her a devoted and loyal audience.

Taunia, known online as "Diva Taunia," is a Wilmington High School alumna, and her family is active in the community. She had RNY gastric bypass surgery on March 25, 2008, and has maintained a loss of over 160 lbs. In addition to being a professional jazz vocalist, she is also a radio host for the weekly Backstage Pass Radio Program, which broadcasts live every Monday from Nashua, NH and focuses on weight loss surgery post-op life. She was also recently named the Vice President of Public Relations for The Weight Loss Surgery Foundation of America, and maintains an active weight loss surgery-related blog that highlights life and "image" after weight loss surgery. The day of the walk just happens to be Diva Taunia's two-and-a-half year gastric bypass anniversary.

In cities across the United States, individuals affected by obesity, their family members and friends, healthcare professionals and many others come together and proudly walk to raise awareness of the disease of obesity, childhood obesity and morbid obesity in the annual Walk from Obesity. Melting Mama and Diva Taunia welcome other New England walkers to join "Melting Mama's Bariatric Bad Girls" and walk with them on September 25th. Donations towards the walk are also being accepted on both websites.

For more information about Melting Mama, Diva Taunia, or the Walk from Obesity, please visit www.meltingmama.net or www.divataunia.com. For more information about weight loss surgery, please visit www.wisfa.org.

OBITUARY

Edward F. Forte

Worked 55 years for the George P. Melhado Company; Korean War Veteran

WOBURN - Edward F. Forte, of Woburn, passed away on September 13, 2010, at Woodbriar Rehabilitation and Skilled Nursing Center in Wilmington after a two-year struggle with lung cancer. He was 81 years of age.

Edward was the beloved husband of the late Gilda R. (Sirignano) Forte for 57 years. He is the dear father of Paul E. Forte and his wife, Martha, of Buxford, and Debra Ann (Forte) Parker of Wilmington. Born in New Bedford and raised in Boston and Somerville, Edward was the son of the late Manuel and Lena (Gouveia-Roia) Forte. Edward graduated from Somerville High School with the class of 1947. Following high school he graduated from the Burdett School of Business in 1949. Shortly following his graduation, Edward proudly and honorably served in the United States Army during the Korean War.

Eddie will be remembered as a devoted and loving husband, father, and grandfather and as a loyal friend and neighbor. A resident of Woburn for 53 years, he cherished spending time with his family and was proud of his children and grandchildren. He was dedicated to his job as a road salesman which he performed ably for 55 straight years for the George P. Melhado (formerly L.J. Risman) Company. Customers often noted his dapper appearance and gleaming cars.

Eddie loved to laugh and was known for his great smile whether he was calling on customers, sharing special moments with family, or spending time with his favorite activity, drum corps. A member of the Lt. Norman Prince Drum and Bugle Corps during its great championship years in the late 40s and 50s, Eddie played the baritone horn and remained active in drum corps throughout his life. He enjoyed singing in the Princemen Alumni Chorus, attending many drum corps events, and in recent years supporting The Boston Crusaders.

In addition to his children, Eddie leaves his brother Ferdinand Forte and his wife Ellen of Chestnut Hill and a sister, Diane McKenney of Billerica. He was the loving grandfather of Stephanie and Ryan Parker of Wilmington and Jamie Forte of Buxford. Eddie is also survived by his sister-in-law, Dolly DeMontier of Holbrook as well as several loving nieces and nephews. He also leaves many wonderful friends in the drum corp world.

Aging in Place: What I Need to Know

A significant concern as people grow older is that they may have to leave their home. This would mean leaving behind a comfortable setting, familiar community and many memories. Most American seniors desire to stay in their homes for the rest of their lives. In fact an AARP survey found this number to be greater than 80% of seniors. This "stay at home" approach is also known as "Aging in Place."

To "age in place" one should be aware of community help and services available to deal with increasing frailty or age-related problems. These services may also be needed in the event of illness.

On Monday, September 27, 2010 at 1:00 p.m., we will be offering a presentation on this issue of "Aging in Place." The lead speaker will be Teresa Burns, COO of MT Care Navigators. MT Care Navigators is a FREE "Care Concierge Network" developed to assist the community in navigating the healthcare system and all the resources available. MT Care Navigators offers personal individual attention to each client they service. Together, owners Teresa Burns; community expert and liaison, and Marlene Sheehy; registered nurse, have created a unique advantage for assisting clients.

MT Care Navigators' objective is to ease the burden associated with health support issues. Helping to navigate the right care for a loved one can be daunting. This is where MT Care Navigators is making a difference.

We will also have a representative from Minuteman Senior Services, whose mission is to help elders and others with long-term care needs remain in their own homes, safely, comfortably and independently, for as long as they are able. Minuteman Senior Services is funded in part or in full by the Massachusetts Executive Office of Elder Affairs.

And finally, Donna Plummer, owner of Home Instead, will be a representative of the private home care industry. Home Instead Senior Care services include the following: assist with daily living tasks, companionship, light housework, meal preparation, medication reminder, personal care, assist with mobility and safety, respite care, errands and transportation, and more - all tailored to meet your personal needs.

The goal of this program is to share the many different types of services that are available to elders in our community to help maintain their independence in their own homes. Please call to the Buzzell Senior Center at 978-657-7595 to register for this program. Light refreshments will be served.

Shawsheen Tech auctioning championship banners

Own a piece of history!

BILLERICA - Shawsheen Tech currently has over 160 championship banners earned between 1973 and 2009. In 2010, the school purchased new banners. The Shawsheen Valley Technical High School and its Alumni Association are collaborating to raise funds that will help defer costs from the purchase of the new banners; and to support the Alumni Association's efforts with scholarships and is upcoming Hall of Fame.

The banners will be displayed for silent auction bids in the gymnasium on Homecoming Day on Saturday, October 2nd between 11 a.m. - 2 p.m. Come check them out and stay for the football game!

On-line bidding and a complete list of available banners will begin on October 3rd through November 7th at www.biddingforgood.com/shawstechbanners.

Troop 47 Remembers 9-11

TEWKSBURY - Troop 47 of Tewksbury recently participated in Flags-on-the-48 (www.flagsonthe48.org) in New Hampshire's White Mountains again this year. Simultaneously, other groups flew flags atop forty-seven other peaks in the White Mountains.

The troop flew the American flag on Mt. Tripyramid North in the Sandwich Range of the White Mountains on Saturday, September 11, from noon to 2pm, to honor the victims of 9/11. The troop hiked up the difficult North Slide trail and down the South Slide trail completing a full 10 miles over the course of the day. It proved very challenging for all scouts and adults involved. The scouts welcomed many visitors who signed the guest book. The troop brought along a listing of all of the victims, with special mention of those with local connections: Peter Hashem and Peter Gay of Tewksbury, Brian Kinney of Lowell, and Andrew Curry Green of Santa Monica, CA. Green was a staff member at the Wachuset Scout Reservation in Northwood, NH, where the troop spends a week each summer. The troop has been participating in this event since 2006.

Earlier this year the Troop took a trip to New York City. They visited the 9/11 Memorial Museum and many other sites in New York, including The Statue of Liberty, Ellis Island, Times Square and the Intrepid Aircraft Carrier Museum. The 9/11 Memorial gave the scouts a real feel for what occurred on September 11, 2001. The older scouts in the Troop, currently in the 10th and 11th grades, were just starting their scouting careers in the first and second grades when 9/11 occurred. The troops annual participation in Flags on the 48 helps keep the memory alive and helps the young scouts understand the significance of that day.

Troop 47 meets Wednesday nights from 7:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the First Congregational Church in Tewksbury. For questions about joining, contact Scout Master Michael Puleo at 978-640-8861.

United Methodist Church sponsors "Parenting Tweens and Teens" workshop

Monday nights starting September 27

WILMINGTON - When did it happen? That little boy or girl who once adored you, and spent every moment of the day with you, is suddenly sounding a bit more disrespectful, wanting to spend more time with friends than family and rolling their eyes whenever you ask them to put their clothes away. It's called adolescence - and it can be a trying time for parents and kids alike. But don't despair! You can help your child through this difficult time and become a more successful parent - the most important job of your life - with "Active Parenting of Teens," the acclaimed video and discussion program by parenting expert Dr. Michael Popkin.

The Wilmington United Methodist Church will be sponsoring an "Active Parenting of Teens Workshop" utilizing Dr. Popkins program on Mondays from September 27 - November 8, from 7:00 - 8:30 p.m. Rev. Leslie Hastings (a mom and "teen years" survivor) will lead this entertaining and informative program that will show you ways to raise responsible, cooperative children who are able to resist negative peer pressure. The workshop is perfect for families with kids from ages 10-15. You'll leave each session energized and motivated to make changes in your own family's daily routine that will lead to greater happiness in every room of the house (and in the car, too!).

Through discussion and video, participants will learn to use non-violent techniques that work to: improve communication with your kids; teach responsibility and other important values; handle problems as they come up; cope with the difficult topics of drugs, violence and sex; diffuse power struggles with children; stimulate independence as children grow older; and encourage children to be their very best.

The six week workshop is $20 for either one or two parents - this includes the cost of the book. (Partial scholarship is available if needed).

If you would like to register or get more information on the "Active Parenting" workshop please contact Rev. Leslie Hastings at 978-658-4519. Space is limited so registration is recommended. We look forward to seeing you on Monday evenings, September 27 - November 8, 7:00-8:30 p.m. at the Wilmington United Methodist Church.

GymStreet USA welcomes more professionals to their team

WILMINGTON - For the past few months GymStreet USA at 1 Jewel Drive in Wilmington, Massachusetts has been recruiting a dynamic team of new Gymnastics, TaeKwonDo and Dance Directors and Instructors to add to their team.

At the beginning of this year, GymStreet USA owners, Kim and Charlie Souza, welcomed a new Senior Director to build and manage the entire Gymnastics Department. In addition, new Pre-School and Recreational Directors and team coaches have also joined the Gymnastics Program. These directors and coaches bring many years of top level and national competition experience to the table. The new professional team has re-structured growing class and team programs and is very excited to start their fall session.

Early this summer, Championship Director, Grand Master Ku, and his team of talented instructors joined the Martial Arts Program. With this exciting addition - coupled with Grand Master Ku's international experience and instrumentalism with the Olympic Sport of TaeKwonDo - GymStreet offers more in this program than ever before for both children of all ages and adults.

GymStreet's Dance Program has been completely revamped under a new, highly skilled and experienced Dance Director. Because of the size and ability to offer a spectrum of options, the Dance department has brought back an ever-popular and one-of-a-kind Dance/Gymnastics combo class under the instruction of its new Director.

"We are extremely excited about the recent restructuring of GymStreet's programs, classes, and teams and confident that it will give new and existing members even more reasons to choose our exceptional facility this year," offers Kim Souza.

GymStreet USA is a family-owned business that was established in 2007 by Kim and Charlie Souza. As busy parents themselves, they recognized the need to focus on providing families with a "one-stop-shop" for sports, fitness and fun.

"Our state-of-the-art facility offers a clean and comfortable environment year round for both children and adults. We felt it was important to provide adults with a comfortable place to rest or work while their children were engaged in various activities, so we designed a great area for them, too. Parents can just sit back in our comfortable café and catch up on emails and other online activities in our WiFi-equipped parents' lounge, but we also have aerobics classes and a fitness center to correspond with your child's class time, too," notes Charlie.

Offering growing programs in Gymnastics, Martial Arts, Dance and other Fitness classes as well as one-of-a-kind camps, birthday parties and open plays makes GymStreet USA unlike any athletic complex in the area.

"To find out more about GymStreet USA, visit our web site at www.gymstreetusa.com or stop by our amazing facility at 1 Jewel Drive off Rt. 38 in Wilmington," adds Charlie.

Transrail is back

to process solid waste as part of a rail facility.

Fast forward to 2010 when out of the blue STB issued a new decision that an updated proposal from NET would fall outside the limitations of the CRA and not require an application for a land use exemption.

This latest proposal from NET states that it wants to develop a "general trans-loading facility for multiple commodities."

The vague description continues by stating that the "commodities to be trans-loaded at NET's proposed facility will depend on the markets at that time."

Essentially NET indicates that those commodities could include salt, sand, gravel, soil, lumber, plastics, steel, paper, woodchips, clay, brick, and some types of hazardous materials.

"They would not include solid waste unless and until all necessary additional approvals had been granted," states NET's proposal.

Further, NET reserves the right to eventually seek a land-use exemption permit to operate a waste rail transfer facility in the future.

"Transrail's most recent filing adds more uncertainty, instead of clarity, to their intentions," said Town Counsel Dan Deutsch of Deutsch Williams.

NET's proposal does not, in Deutsch's opinion, prove that the truck-to-rail facility moving the commodities listed above falls outside the tenets of the CRA nor is the proposal clear about the form the project will take or how it would operate.

The Town is contemplating filing an objection or response to NET's status report. The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), which oversees the clean-up of the property, has already submitted comments of its own to the STB. EPA states that NET's conclusions, "are premature and may not be supported by the facts as known to EPA."

The Olin site is still in the site investigation stage of the Remedial Investigation and Feasibility Study (RI/FS), not nearly ready for further environmental study by the STB. The EPA adds that, based on the current pace of site investigation activities, the RI/FS reports will not be complete until 2012.

Town Counsel is presently working with the Town's environmental consultant on the Olin remediation, GeoInsight, however the town's strategy in the matter will remain confidential.

9/11 Candlelight Vigil in Tewksbury

By JAYNE W. MILLER

TEWKSBURY - Light flickered gently across the faces of young and old at a memorial service in Tewksbury Saturday evening, marking the ninth anniversary of those heinous terrorist attacks on this nation and in the tangible loss felt by two Tewksbury families and those who love them.

Once again Tewksbury showed how much it values its citizens and honors all the victims of the September 11, 2001 attacks at a solemn candlelight vigil Saturday evening. Tewksbury lost two residents in the attacks, Peter Gay and Peter Hashem, both on American Airlines flight 11.

An NYPD officer who spent months at Ground Zero was the special guest of Police Chief Tim Sheehan. Sheehan welcomed Detective Lieutenant Richard Rudolph during his remarks and, following the ceremony, spent time reminiscing with Rudolph who knew several of the names on the bricks.

Tewksbury has one of the few 9/11 Memorials in the nation that honors each of the 2,974 victims. Saturday's service was well attended, especially by children who Deputy Fire Chief Mike Hazel welcomed to stand in front of the crowd. Hazel entreated attendees to ensure that children are educated about the events that transpired on September 11.

Larissa Gay, daughter of Peter Gay and now entering her senior year in high school, gave a moving speech highlighted with a poem and calling on listeners to honor the memories of those who died by living fully into every day.

A bugler played Taps. Soloist Mike Lally sang the Star Spangled Banner to open the event and closed the evening with Let There Be Peace on Earth. Police and Fire Honor Guards stood with flags while many other officers ringed the green in front of the library. A minor fender to build or maintain the memorial, instead fundraising and donation of materials and labor helped complete

An unidentified Marine was among the crowd gathered at the Tewksbury 9-11 memorial to commemorate the events of September 11, 2001. A candlelight vigil was held in honor of all the 9-11 victims. Photo by joebrownphotos.com were fading away, he was happy that Tewksbury and Wilmington showed such loyalty.

"I will continue to work hard, and in line with my constituents wishes," Miceli said.

In other contested primary races on Wilmington's ballot, Steven Grossman won the Democratic Treasurer nominee with 517 local votes versus Stephen J. Murphy's 426 votes. For Democratic Auditor, Suzanne Bump beat out both Guy Glodis and Mike Lake with 415 votes to 320 and 201 respectively.

For the Democratic Councilor seat, Mary-Ellen Manning won 600 votes in Wilmington while Jason A. Panos only received 206.

Likely Manning will be running unopposed in the November campaign.

On the Republican side, for contested elections, Mary Z. Connaughton won the state, receiving 697 votes in Wilmington versus Lowell native Kamal Jain's 172 votes.

Republican Bill Hudak won the 6th District seat with 676 votes soundly beating Saugus attorney Robert McCarthy's mere 215 votes. Hudak will face Democrat John Tierney in November's election.

In uncontested Democrat races, Governor Deval Patrick won 647 votes, Lt. Governor Timothy Murray won 745 votes, Martha Coakley received 811 for Attorney General, William Galvin came in with 836 votes for the Secretary of State nomination, John Tierney won 810 votes toward his congressional seat, and District Attorney Gerald Leone, Jr. garnered 769 votes, while Sheriff James DiPaola obtained 767 votes.

In Republican uncontested elections, Charlie Baker won 921 votes, Richard Tisei won 834 votes, the Secretary of State candidate William Campbell garnered 745 votes, Karyn Polito for State Treasurer amassed 737 votes, and Representative Bruce Tarr brought in 782 votes.

The numbers reported are based on unofficial results from Town Clerk Sharon George's office and do not include write in candidates. That information was not available prior to publication.

alignment across the curriculum and the district, expires this year.

Finally, following Town Meeting's overwhelming approval last spring, Benton will also tackle the Feasibility Study for Wilmington High School. The study will examine whether a renovation of the existing high school, or the construction of an entirely new structure, is the right investment for Wilmington.

At last Wednesday's School Committee meeting, members discussed recent federal funds coming to the district. Under the Education Jobs Fund Wilmington will receive $36,000, though Benton reminded the committee that the town received over half a million in federal stimulus dollars last year.

Wilmington will not receive any Race to the Top (RTTT) funds, though Massachusetts was one of the states awarded monies in the second round, because the teacher's union refused to sign the memorandum of understanding. The Superintendent and the School Committee did sign the MOU, but funds only went to those towns that obtained all three signatures. It is significant to note that in the first round of RTTT the teachers' union did sign off on the initiative. Had they signed, the town would have received $60,000 over four years.

In other School Department news, the district received a $17,000 grant from C.A.S.I.T for teaching Italian at the high school. Benton said the grant increased by $2,000 this year. Currently high school students can choose from Italian, French, and Spanish classes and one Latin course.

Wilmington Recreation Department Weight training classes

WILMINGTON - Add weight training to your workout routine to maximize your results. Classes will be held Mondays and Wednesdays, September 13 - November 8 (no class on October 11) in the Woburn Street School gym from 6 - 6:45 p.m. Cost for this eight-week, sixteen class program is $45. Each student should bring a set of 1 - 3 lb. weights and a yoga mat or towel to Benton said she would like to offer more choices for foreign languages, such as Mandarin, but the current building does not have the space nor would the budget support the additional cost at this time.

The School Committee, at its meeting Wednesday evening, enjoyed a meet and greet with new teachers as well as an approval of handbooks and district professional development plans. At the next meeting, September 22, the accreditation report from NEASC will be highlighted.

telephone box at the corner of Main Street and South Street in Tewksbury. He was taken into custody by Officer Palmer as he tried to flee the scene of the crash. Subsequent investigation determined that the Jeep had been reported stolen in Boston. In addition, police recovered a crumpled robbery note in the driveway behind CVS Pharmacy.

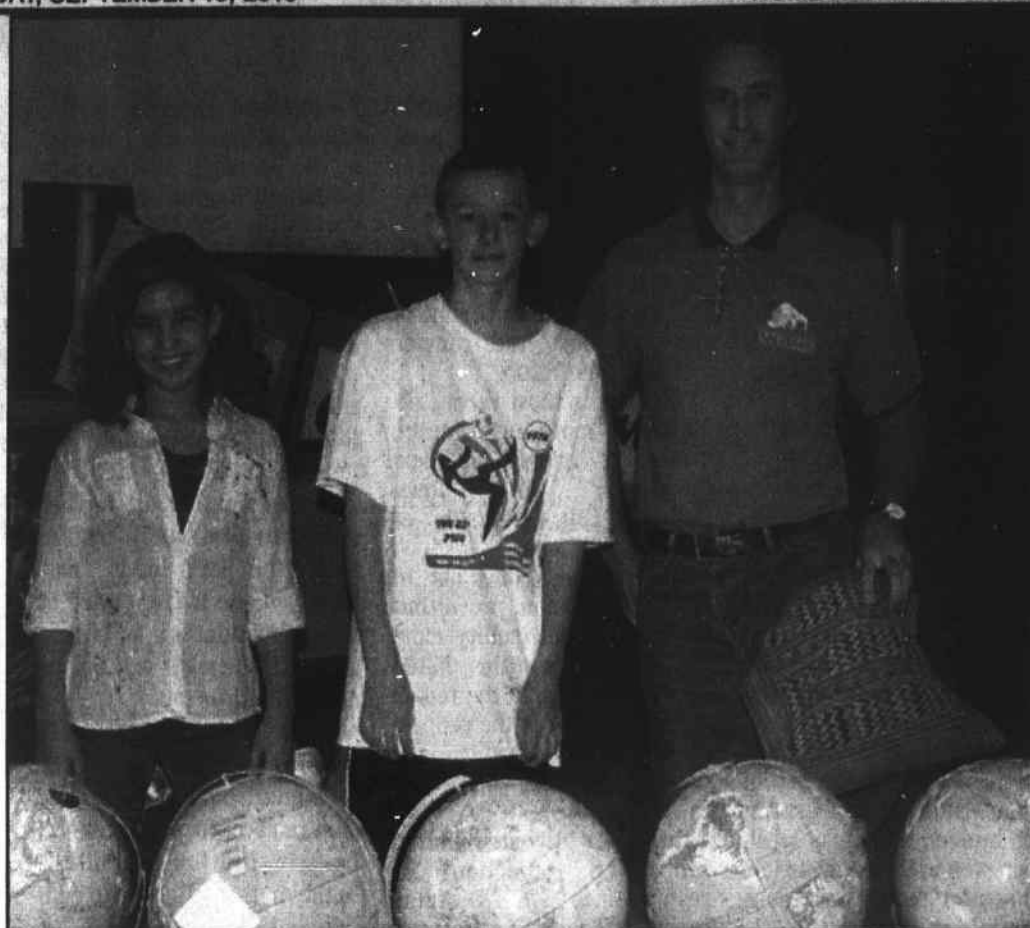

Ryan is no stranger to Wilmington Police. In 1993 he was arrested following a housebreak on Woburn Street. In Monday's arrest Ryan was charged with Attempt to Commit a Crime, to wit: Bank Robbery, Receiving a Stolen Vehicle, Receiving Stolen Vehicle Plates and a host of vehicle-related crimes including refusal to stop for an officer. He was arraigned in Woburn District Court on Tuesday morning.

Despite the outstanding work of Wilmington Police, the Clerk Magistrate at Woburn District Court dismissed the charge of attempt to commit a crime. During Ryan's arraignment, the Clerk ruled that Wilmington Police did not have probable cause to charge him with attempting to commit a crime.

The legal standard of "probable cause," in general terms, is that the circumstances would lead a reasonable person to believe that it is more likely than not that a suspect committed a crime - in this case, that the suspect had intent to commit a crime. It is a far lower threshold than "beyond a reasonable doubt," which is the standard used to convict a defendant in a court of law.

Ryan was held by Woburn District Court on a US Marshall's warrant for violating probation on a prior bank robbery.

Michael Vivaldi visited the Wilmington Middle School on Monday to help teach students about life in Guatemala. Mr. Vivaldi, Assistant Planner for the Town of Wilmington, spent time in Guatemala with the Peace Corps and shared his slides, and experiences with the students in honor of Hispanic Heritage Month. Victoria Capone and D.J. Kenney were among the sixth graders to learn about Guatemala.

Field Hockey goalie Patrice Mendoza Former WHS star heading to UML Hall of Fame

To celebrate the University's Soaring With Pride campaign and the Hall of Fame Sports Gallery at the Tsongas Center, the UMass Lowell Athletic Hall of Fame will induct 10 new members - eight former student-athletes and two administrators - Saturday, Oct. 23 and Saturday, Nov. 6.

The 2010 class is the Hall's largest since its inception in 1977 when nine members were inducted.

Among the list of inductees are Claire Chamberlain (Chelmsford, Mass.), a former physical education professor from 1971-08 and coach; and Denise Legault (Atkinson, N.H.), also a former administrator and coach, both of whom pioneered the development of women's athletics at Lowell State College and the University of Lowell.

Also earning induction were Billy Rizos (Lowell, Mass.), a standout quarterback from 1989-92; hockey standout Christian Sbrocca (Montreal, Quebec), who played from 1992-96; Donna Mills (Lynnfield, Mass.), who starred in softball from 1993-96; and Diane DiRoma (Belmont, N.H.), a women's basketball standout from 1993-97.

Katie Toomey (New Bedford, Mass.), a volleyball standout from 1995-98, will also be inducted alongside former pitcher Nate Linstad (Chelmsford, Mass.) (1998-02), field hockey goalkeeper Patrice Mendoza (Wilmington, Mass.) (2000-03) and men's soccer defender Jonathan Curran (Tyngsboro, Mass.) (2001-04).

Curran's induction marks the first brother tandem in the Hall's history. His brother, Brandon, also a men's soccer standout, was inducted in 2008.

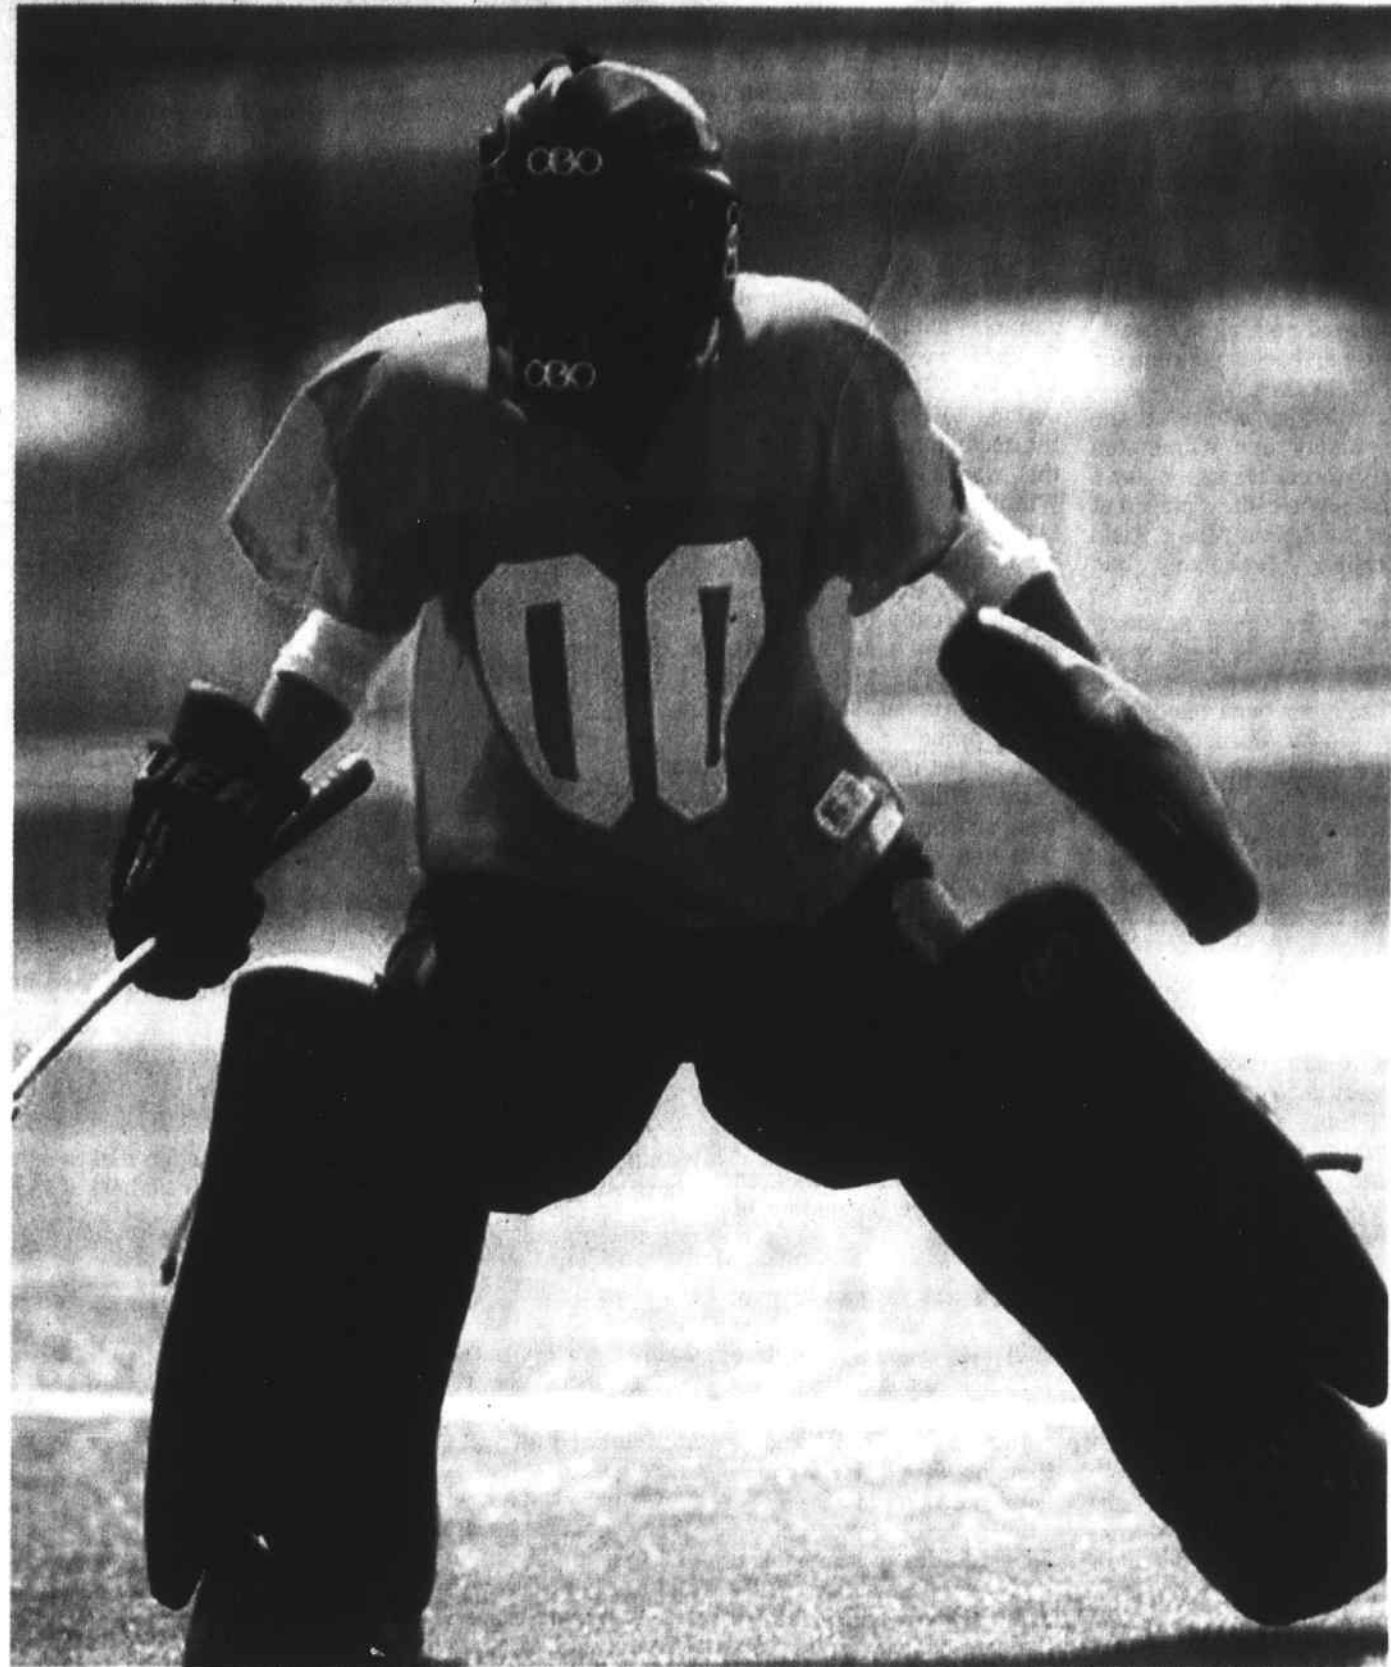

In Patrice Mendoza's first two years, the UMass Lowell field hockey team posted consecutive records of 7-12. By her senior year, it was contending for the NCAA Championship.

Perhaps the best goalkeeper in UMass Lowell field hockey history, Mendoza was one of handful of athletes who were instrumental in elevating the program to national prominence, a standing which it has maintained to date.

"Patrice was one of the most focused athletes I have ever coached, whether she was in a repetitive drill or playing for a national championship," said UML Head Coach Shannon Hlebichuk. "She had one focus: keeping the ball out of the net. She played an integral part in the transformation of the field hockey program nine years ago."

After a 9-9 record and its first postseason bid in years, UMass Lowell peaked over the second half of the 2003 season and captured the first of five straight Northeast-10 Conference Tournament championships and advanced to the NCAA Championship match against 11-time titlist Bloomsburg University, despite falling 4-1.

numbers her junior and senior years. As a junior, she maintained a 1.21 goals against average with an .866 save rate and seven shutouts - very telling figures considering the River Hawks finish 9-9.

As a senior, she nursed a 1.12 GAA and an .832 save percentage with a school-record nine shutouts as UMass Lowell went 15-7. She remains prominent in the record books, holding benchmarks for matches in a career (77) and shutouts in a career (26) and a season (nine).

"Patrice was extremely athletic and unconventional, especially when it came to her size (5 feet)," Hlebichuk noted. "But that is what made her outstanding. What she lacked in size, she made up with her passion and intensity. She was an inspirational leader while she was here as well."

Mendoza was also the recipient of many plaudits during her career. She was named a two-time All-American by the National Field Hockey Coaches Association (NFHCA), earning first team honors as a senior and second team as a junior. She was also named the NE-10 Goalkeeper of the Year and first team member both years.

At UMass Lowell's 2003 Excellence Awards Banquet, she was named the recipient of the Lester H. Cushing Award for Female Athlete of the Year.

Mendoza graduated in 2003 with a degree in health education. A native of Wilmington, Mass., she is currently the operations and merchandise manager of Bed, Bath & Beyond in Phoenix, AZ, where she resides.

Members of the Class of 2010 will be inducted in ceremonies on Saturday, Oct. 23 and Saturday, Nov. 6 at the Tsongas Center prior to hockey games against Northeastern (7 p.m.) and New Hampshire (7 p.m.).

After a reception at 3:30 in the Tsongas Sports Pavilion, the induction ceremony will be held from 4:15-5:30, followed by photos and unveiling of the Hall of Fame Sports Gallery.

The Oct. 23 ceremony will honor Katie Toomey, Donna Mills, Billy Rizos and Nate Linstad while Christian Sbrocca, Denise Legault, Claire Chamberlain, Patrice Mendoza, Diane DiRoma and Jonathan Curran will be recognized on Nov. 6.

Tickets cost $30 per person and can be purchased at the Athletic Business Office in the Costello Athletic Center; or by calling 978-934-2345. More information on the Athletic Hall of Fame is available at www.goriverhawks.com.

Wilmington's 6th Annual Half Marathon & 5K Run or Walk

200 athletes already registered

WILMINGTON - The streets of Wilmington will be teaming with runners and walkers on Sept. 26th as the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce sponsors the 6th Annual Half Marathon and 5K Walk. Wilmington High School students will benefit with scholarships from the money raised by this event.

Due to an increased volume of expected runners for the event, organizers are strongly encouraging athletes and community members participating in the September 26 Wilmington Half Marathon and 5K to pre-register for the race to avoid excessive lines during race-day registration.

Benefits of pre-registration include a lower price, the ability to guarantee a race t-shirt, and avoiding the hassle of filling out registration forms when you would instead be preparing for the event or conversing with friends. Participation for the 13.1 and 3.1-mile races, respectively, are $30 and $25 on race day, but only $25 and $20 if applications are received in the next week. The $25 entry fee for the half-marathon provides tremendous value, as most local half-marathons cost $45 or more.

Students, whether pre-registered or registered the day of the race, are still only $10.

The ways to pre-register for these two community events are to visit the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce's website at wilmingtonbusiness.com and download a PDF version of the registration form, to register online with a credit card on runreg.com, or by obtaining a registration form at the Chamber's 226 Lowell Street office.

The sixth annual Wilmington Half Marathon & 5K run or walk is proving to be the biggest in the event's history. Starting at the new WCTV headquarters on Waltham Street in North Wilmington, this race is offering flat courses, t-shirts, awards, and many post-race activities. For more information on the race, its offerings, and registration information, please visit the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce's website at wilmingtonbusiness.com.

Wildcats and Redmen end in exciting tie

By JAMIE POTE

TEWKSBURY -- Both teams entered the game relatively young and inexperienced, and both teams left showing off strong defense and a boatload of young, talented soccer players who displayed nothing but heart, hustle and determination for all 80 minutes.

Last Friday afternoon, the Tewksbury and Wilmington girls' soccer teams met for a non-league contest played at the Livingston Street Field complex. Tewksbury had won its season opener, 5-0 over Notre Dame Academy in the debut of head coach Kelly Barrio, and Wilmington was playing in its season opener, with a third of its team made up of freshmen.

Throughout the 80 minutes both teams had a solid amount of scoring chances, but Tewksbury's Rebecca Davies made all 11 saves she faced, and Wilmington's Sarah Luz also posted the shut out with five stops, as the teams ended in a 0-0 scoreless tie.

"I think we definitely carried the play, but we need to work on finishing," said Wildcat head coach Sue Hendee. "I think we had a lot of really good build-up, and good opportunities so for a first game, I'm really happy with what I saw out there especially from Lauren McKenna, who just had a fantastic game back there."

McKenna, a sophomore defender, played exceptionally well, along side teammates Lauren Zaremba, Paige Bennett and Taylor Shelton, who had the duty of stopping Tewksbury sophomore Nicole Chaet, a very good all-around player with speed, size and some finesse moves up top.

"The defense played well together," said Hendee. "Tewksbury's tough offensively. Those girls are big, strong and fast up front."

Meanwhile Tewksbury's offense was just as good, if not better. Wilmington's forwards put a lot more pressure on the Redmen defenders, and for the second game in a row, stopper Heather Carroll, sweeper Lizzie Marchand, outside backs Gina Papageorgiou and Jamie Minton as well as defensive midfielder Lauren Spencer all played extremely well, holding Wilmington forwards Rachel Grabar and Alexa Brown off the scoreboard.

"That was such a nailbiter - just such a really good game," said Barrio. "I thought we played really well. We're looking for a new outlook to this season. For the second game out I think this was a fantastic game. Wilmington had some fantastic scoring chances but we had some terrific goal-tending by Rebecca Davies. I'm just really proud of all of them. We hung on until the end. The kids played their hearts out, so I'm just really proud."

About ten minutes into the game, Wilmington had the best scoring chance of the first half as Heather Kealos came in from the right hand corner and unleashed a shot that went off of Davies' hands before being covered up.

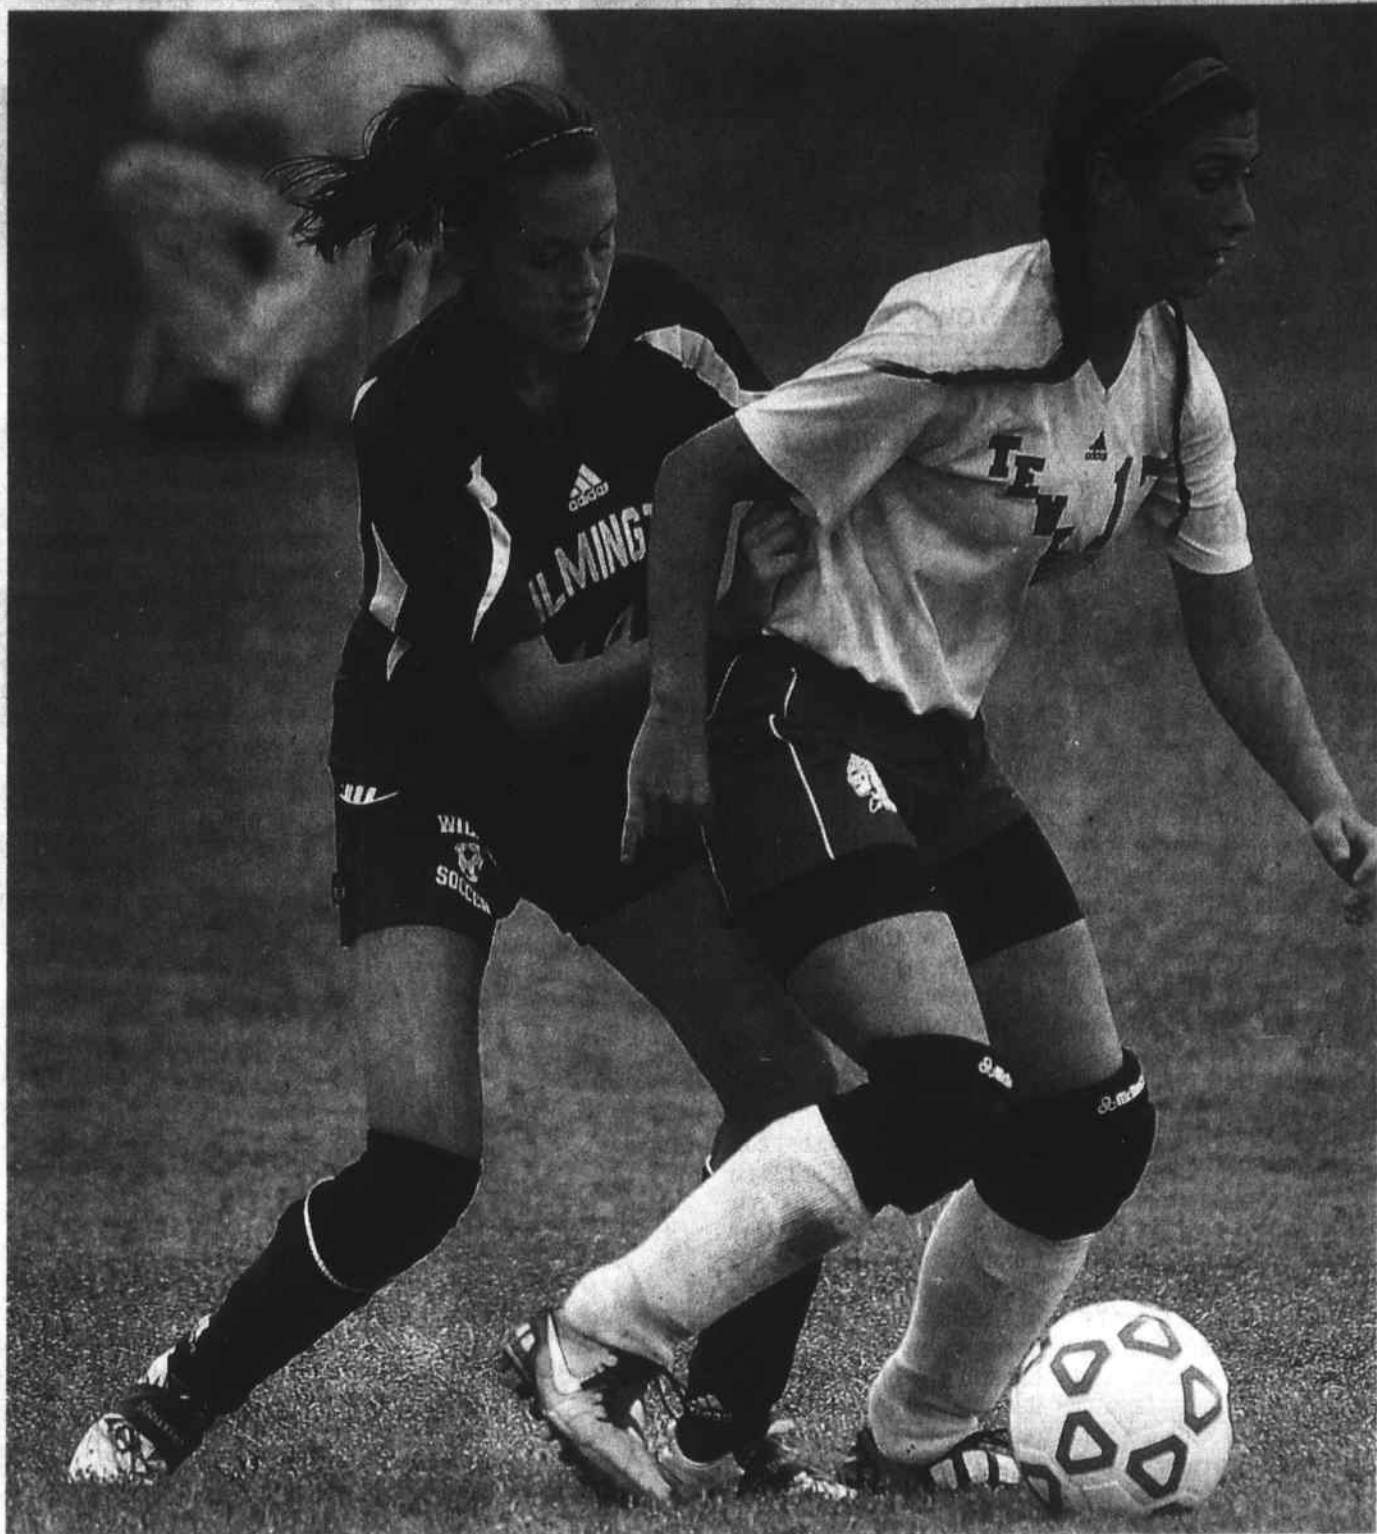

Wilmington held an 8-2 advantage in the shot department at the break, meaning Barrio had to make some adjustments - working specifically on gaining more possession of the ball.

"That was our halftime speech was we had to play our possession game," she said. "We spend a lot of time with possession during practices, and I think that helped settle them down and I thought we played a much better second half."

Both teams had golden opportunities to score taken away as Tewksbury freshman Kelly Quigley nailed the left post about 13 minutes in, and then her teammates Chaet and Caitlin Ludka followed with solid chances, both just missing the short side.

In the final 15 minutes, Wilmington had several more chances to get the lone goal as Holly Niemiec had a solid shot from about 25 yards out, and then after that Grabar came down the right wing, crossed a hard shot which went through the hands of Davies, off the far post before being cleared out.

Minutes later both teams shook hands at midfield after ending in very exciting scoreless tie.

Hendee added that she was thrilled with a handful of performances she received most notably from McKenna, Kaitlyn Curley and Niemiec.

"Kaitlyn Curley had a strong game and Holly is just a solid player - and she and Kaitlyn work really well together," said Hendee.

After losing so many players from last year's team and being so young this season, Hendee was relatively surprised with the opening game performance by the entire team.

"They played with confidence and that's so important," she said. "They wasn't a lot of panic and it seemed like they really had intent on their passes, and it was definitely a start on the right foot."

Tewksbury 1-0-2

In the team's opening 5-0 win over NDA, Chaet and Aly Spencer had two goals each and April McDermott added the other. Davies and Sarah Reynolds combined for the shut out with five saves.

On Saturday night, Tewksbury trailed a very talented Newburyport team, 2-0 before getting goals by Lauren Spencer and Chaet to come up with an exciting 2-2 tie. Heather Carroll set up Spencer's goal, before Chaet tied the game up with about six minutes to go thanks to some help from freshman Aly Spencer. Davis made six saves, and she was helped out by a strong performance by Ludka.

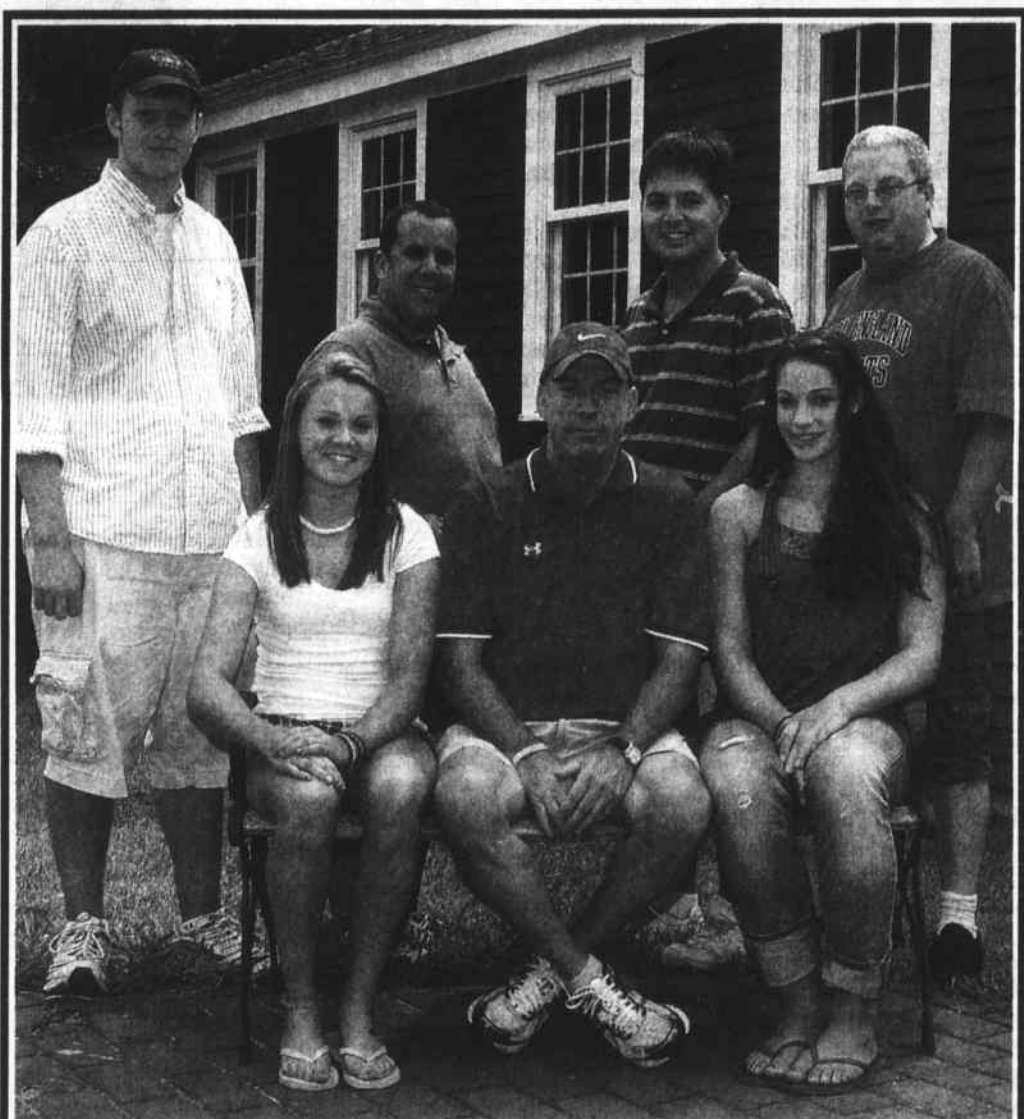

Redmen correction

In last week's Tewksbury edition, it was reported that Jen Burns was a forward on the Girls Soccer team, when in fact that name should have said Jen Bowers. The Town Crier regrets the error.

Wildcats tie Masco

The Wildcat girls left Tewksbury and a few days later ended in a hard fought 2-2 tie with perennial power Masconomet. Shelton scored the first goal on a direct kick, and then with six minutes to go in the game and trailing 2-1, Jackie Kennedy set up Grabar who found the back of the net and helped the Wildcats escape with an exciting tie.

Luz made six saves, while, Zaremba, Alex Bishoff and Curley all had strong games.

Big plays the difference against Melrose

Wildcats go long in season opening victory

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

After a slow start on its first offensive possession, the Wilmington High School Football team went deep on several plays which became the difference of blasting past Melrose, 34-0, in a non-league contest played Friday night at Melrose High School.

Senior quarterback Sean Hanley found a wide open Brian Hurley for a 30-yard TD strike, and then Chris Frissore caught a short half-back option pass from John Parsons and went in for a 56-yard score, before Parsons put the game away with an 88-yard run up the gut, to help the Wildcats open their season with a crooked number in the left hand column.

"That (34-0 win) was a little bit unexpected," said Wildcat head coach Mike Barry. "We came out in that first possession and went back (wards), but then we opened up some things in our running game, and that helped Sean make some pass plays. And once we hit some of those pass plays, it opened it up for some other stuff.

"The two throws to Hurley really opened the game. On that first possession their defense was really coming at us. But the kids we talked about in the pre-season, Hanley, Brian Hurley, John Parsons, Chris Frissore and Kevin Moriarty all played very well. Those are all the kids who played last year and they stepped it up here tonight. Then the (offensive) line feeds off of that and then you can start running the ball."

Wilmington ended the game with 345 total yards of offense including 209 on the ground. Parsons finished with 108 yards on just five carries and two touchdowns, and he also added in that 56-yard half-back option TD pass. That was all offensively, and defensively, he led the way with double digit tackles coming from his linebacker position.

Besides Parsons, other offensive stars included Hanley, who finished completing 3-of-5 passes for 80 yards and a score, while, Kevin Moriarty and Ed DeLucia combined for 85 rushing yards, while Hurley had two long catches for a combined 72 yards.

Heading into the season, the unknown for the team was its offensive line. Although there were some mistakes and breakdowns, for the most part of the group of first-year player Ryan O'Rourke, the Smith duo of Killian and Mike, Gordie Fitch, Alex Furlong and ends Hurley and Kyle Albanese played pretty well and got the job done.

"You have to go back and look at the film, but I think they played hard," said Barry of the offensive line group. "On the goal line we had some busted assignments and a couple of problems on some other things but overall I thought they played hard. This is a good way to start building some confidence, and we just need to keep getting after it because we have another tough battle next week with Austin Prep. They are a Super Bowl team that has a lot coming back. The line played well but we'll look at the film, we'll see some mistakes and we'll need to clean those up. If you don't play hard, nothing else matters and tonight I thought our kids played hard."

Cougars on deck

This Saturday morning at 11:00 am, Wilmington will take on Austin Prep, the reigning Division 3A Super Bowl Champs, in Reading. The Cougars play the double wing offense, and try to possess the ball as long as possible, including going for it on fourth down on nearly every possession, no matter where they are on the field.

"It's an offense that keeps them on the field," said Barry. "They do some strange stuff, they are going to try to lull you to sleep and then get you over the top. But they have a good quarterback, some good linemen and some good running backs but I don't know that much about them. But anytime a team wins a Super Bowl, and has a lot of kids returning from that team, they know how to win, so we're going to enjoy this win tonight and get right back to work on Monday."

Wildcat Player taken by ambulance

During Friday's game, freshman Eli Jennings was taken off the field by an ambulance, after suffering a neck injury during a special team's kick-off.

"Everytime you get a tweak to the neck, they always want to do some precautionary work," said Barry. "It certainly caused us a lot of fear and it's certainly the right thing to do. We'll follow up with him later tonight and hopefully everything will be just fine.

"Eli's been a great kid for us. He's a freshman, a big athletic freshman, who we brought up after seeing him the first week and we saw some really good things and down the road we expect him to continue to do some really good things."

WHS Golf, Volleyball, Field Hockey, Boys Soccer and Cross Country Round-Up

Golf team winless in early goings

By MIKE IPPOLITO & JAMIE POTE

The Wilmington High golf team is off to a rough start to the season, and they are hoping to turn it around in the coming week.

Last week the Wildcats got off to an 0-3 start, with Cape Ann League losses to Amesbury last Thursday, Triton on Friday and followed those up with a non league loss to Reading on Monday. All of their matches were on the road.

"It was a little disappointing, I thought we would have a better showing to start off," Wilmington coach Steve Lynch said.

In the 141-136 loss to Amesbury the Wildcats were led by senior Adam Martiniello and junior Jon Keogh each of whom had 25 points while junior Dan Keane added 24. Against Triton in a 147-114 loss, Keogh had 20 points while senior captain Andrew Spurr had 26.

Reading uses a different scoring system than the Wildcats, but unfortunately that did not help the Wildcats cause playing on a very tough course as they fell by a score of 48 1/2 - 23 1/2. Under the Wildcats scoring system Keogh would have led the way with 29 points, while Martiniello had 27 and Spurr had 24.

"We need to play better as a group rather than as individuals if we are going to get some victories," Lynch said.

Cross Country

The WHS Boys and Girls Cross Country teams both came away with wins in their season opener last week against Georgetown.

The boys edged out the Royals, 27-30, led by Stephen Halas, who finished first overall with a time of 18:57 over three miles.

"Georgetown's course is not conducive to a fast time but the team did well," said head coach Tom Bradley.

Senior captain Zach Sears was second with a time of 19:25. Georgetown had the next four place finishers, before newcomer Marc Shibilia was 7th at 20:59, followed by Andrew Sears (21:01), Ryan Kennedy (21:08) and Andrew LaRosa (22:22) and Matt Gake (22:45) which sealed the deal for the Wildcats victory.

"Stephen and Zach ran as expected," said Bradley. "Marc was a surprise finishing third for us and a pleasant one. Andrew, Ryan and Andrew ran as expected and did well."

Turning to the girls, they pitched the shut out beating Georgetown, 15-50. Wilmington had the first seven finishers, including a very impressive top four including Nikki Sirignano (22:49), Sydnee Russo (22:49), Amy Fisher (22:53) and Callie O'Connell (22:53).

"Nikki, Syd and Amy were our top 3 last year and Callie is a terrific addition," said Bradley.

Freshman Nicole Romanzo was fifth at 22:34, followed by Hannah Kelly, Lori Fletcher, Kate Richardson and Keara MacCorkle.

"Nicole is vastly improved and is primed for a great season," and Kate Richardson and Keara MacCorkle also showing great improvement. This was a good start but we have Hamilton-Wenham next week," said Bradley.

Field Hockey

The Wildcat varsity field hockey team went 1-2 this past week to put the team's record to 2-2 in the early stages. After winning the first game earlier last week, the Wildcats were defeated in back-to-back 2-1 games by Masconomet and Amesbury, before edging out Newburyport on Tuesday.

In the two defeats, head coach Jodi MacKenzie felt as if her team deserved a better fate.

"I thought we absolutely dominated Masco, but we just couldn't score," she said. "I just feel like we're not clicking completely as a team yet. I think I'm going to have to move some people around."

Krysten Callahan scored the lone goal in the loss to Masco.

On Monday, Wilmington lost to Amesbury, 2-1, as Fiona Gately scored the lone goal coming off a corner on a strong pass from Cristina Wilson.

"The two of them played an awesome game and they've been playing great in every game this season," said MacKenzie.

On Tuesday, the Wildcats edged Newburyport, 2-1, behind goals from Kellie Moon and Wilson, who also picked up the assist on the first tally.

Boys Soccer

The Wildcats started the season off with a 1-1 tie against Lynnfield, before defeating Haverhill 1-0 on Monday behind the first career shut out by keeper John Malone, who turned away all eight shots he faced. In that game, Phil Lentini scored the lone goal with six minutes to play on an assist from Andy Owens. Dave Sugrue, Tom Broman, Cam Garrant and Kory McGilvray all played well in front of Malone on the defensive line.

In the tie with Lynnfield, Owens scored on a head ball on a throw in by Nick Godzyk in the 13th minute to take the lead by Lynnfield countered with a penalty kick goal ten minutes later.

Malone made 12 saves, and defensively he was helped out by strong performances by Cam Garrant and Gott Saenchandi had strong games. Chris DiCecca also played well in the midfield.

Volleyball

The Wilmington High School girls volleyball team fell to 1-2 on the season with a 3-1 loss to Masconomet at home on Monday afternoon. After starting off slow with mental and physical mistakes which propelled Masco to 25-13 and 25-18 set victories, Wilmington won the third set at 25-23 before losing the fourth set with the same 25-23 score.

"We were struggling the first two games because we weren't hustling and we were kind of flat-footed and we really didn't have the intensity that we're used to having," said first-year head coach Meghan Sheehy. "They got that back in the last two games, and if we had that the first two games, I think we would have won. If we came out with that intensity, I think we would have won, or the game would have been that much closer."

In the third game, Masco had a small 6-5 lead before Katie Aoki reeled off four straight service points making it 10-5. The moments later, Ana Perullo had her turn at serving and she put three more points on the board thanks to a big kill from middle hitter Amanda Keane.

"Amanda stepped up and played great - she had really good hits from the middle, and she had some great blocks, and Katie also had some amazing blocks," said Sheehy.

Masco was able to close the gap to 20-18 forcing Sheehy to call a timeout, and after some small adjustments, Wilmington went on to pull out the win, behind strong performances by Aoki and Keane, who had three kills each and one each from Robin Hollenbeck and Nicole Neville.

In the fourth set, neither team had more than a two-point lead, exchanging five different leads and the game was tied at 11-11. But then Michelle Woods made a terrific diving save, getting enough on the ball for it to get over the net and just inside the right sideline for a huge point.

"Michelle Woods saved a ball that would have gone out, and that play kept up the great tempo for us," said Sheehy.

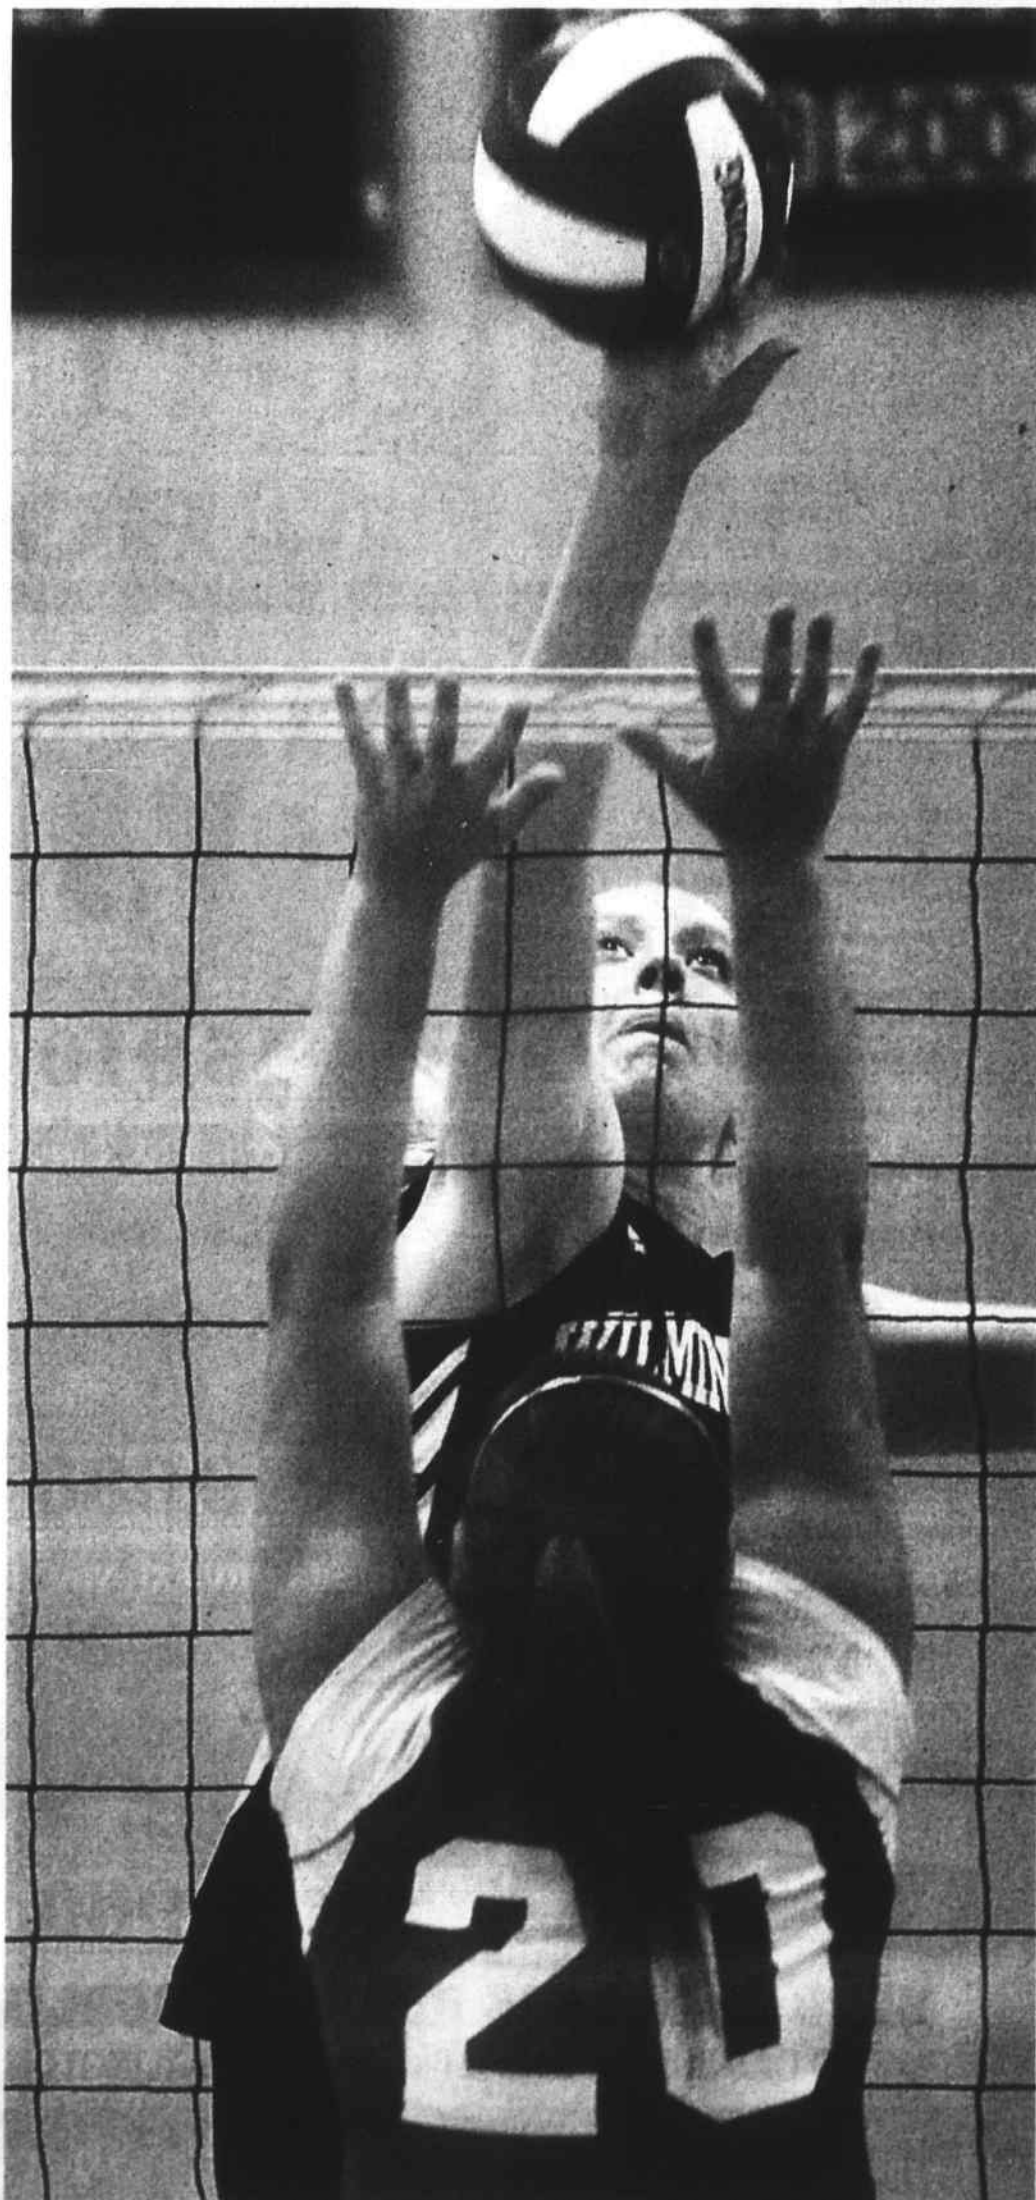

Masco then fired off a handful of great serves to take a 20-16 lead, and although Wilmington fought back making it a one-point game, the Chieftains scored the final point to come away with the 'W'.

"When the girls come together, they play amazing as a team," said Sheehy. "I want them to come out at 100 percent and not at 50 percent and work their way up because volleyball is too quick of a game to take a game off, and once that happens, you start to fall apart. We are a work in progress but I do feel that we're always getting better than falling behind."

Earlier last week, Wilmington defeated Burlington (25-16, 25-18, 27-29, 21-25, 15-13), 3-2, and were swept by North Reading in three sets (25-16, 25-11, 25-19).

Wilmington Youth Hockey teams in action

Three Mite teams get season going

With just two practices under their belts, the Wilmington Mite 3 youth hockey team arrived in fashion at the Flynn Arena on a gorgeous Sunday afternoon.

The kids worked hard all week with the help of the coaching staff: Dave Crowley, Dan White, Bob Riccil, Dave Sainato, Jim Peterson and Bob Farrell. Emphasis was on stick work, skating, goaltending and it showed. Colin Sainato led the way with some key saves early in the game to allow Wilmington's confidence to grow while playing their 1st game to a huge 8-2 win.

It didn't take long for Wilmington to light the red light on the opposing Melrose team as Jimmy McCarron started the team's scoring going to the bottom corner early in the first period.

Wilmington was relentless with the pressure mounting up shot after shot against Melrose. Gina Bertolami, James Kourkoutas, Evan Munro, Aydan Churchill, and Gannon Ricci kept the pressure on offense going. Joe Cornish received a pass from Jack Farrell for the second goal of them period. Andrew Gallucci and Peter Kourkoutas added a goal each to complete the first period.

The strong defensive efforts of Conor Peterson,

Liam Crowley, Jack Farrell, Owen White, Derek Gallucci and Peter Kourkoutas kept the Melrose team from any hope at a comeback, as Cam Humphrey was relentless on the offensive attack which led to his first goal. Derek Gallucci found an opportunity early in the second to also score his first. Liam Crowley found Andrew Gallucci late in the third to complete his first hat trick of his young career.

Mite 2's

The Wilmington Youth Hockey Association Mite 2 team started the 2010-11 season in winning fashion Saturday morning, taking down Woburn by a score of 5-3 at the O'Brien Rink in Woburn.

The blue line was covered by Joseph Hartzell, Max Churchill, Aidan Elkins, Anthony Bowker and Matt Vinal, backstopped by goalie Alex Fitzler. The defense did a terrific job of controlling the pace of the game, keeping the play in the offensive zone and limiting Woburn's scoring chances while Fitzler made a number of key saves.

The forward lines were centered by Harry Serounian, Maura Fiorenza, and David Bazile. Brendan Ardito, Matthew Ardito, and C.J. Petrie manned the left wing, with A.J. Lavigne, Nathan Alberti, and Robbie Courtney on the right side. Wilmington got the scoring started just three minutes into the game when Brendan Ardito scored from his position on the left wing. Woburn rallied to even the score just over a minute later. The action picked up in the second period with David Bazile sent to the penalty box on a tripping call. Brendan Ardito took a feed from Max Churchill and scored short-handed for his second goal of the game, but Woburn answered that with power play goal before the penalty expired.

Less than a minute later Maura Fiorenza scored her first goal on a breakaway, tucking it in at the near side post. Woburn again answered to tie the game at three.

C.J. Petrie put the Wildcats on top for good, showing great patience to settle a bouncing rebound and make sure the puck found the back of the net. The third period was scoreless until Aidan Elkins' shot from the blue line skipped past Woburn's goalie with only 45 seconds remaining.

The Mite 2 team plays next on Friday, September 17 at 5:40 p.m. against Andover at Merrimack College in North Andover; admission is free.

Mite 1's

While the two teams were evenly matched throughout the first period Saturday, Waltham scored four quick goals in the second to give the Wilmington Mite 1 hockey team a 5-0 deficit. However, the resilient Wildcats never gave up; especially goaltender Anthony Cuozzo who stood on his head facing multiple shots and rebounds throughout. Defensemen Matt Pendenza, Garrett Alberti and Matt Miller were runaway freight trains digging for loose pucks and leading key rushes.

Justin Crowley elatedly scored Wilmington's first goal of the year; the first goal of his young career, on a powerful rush from the offensive blue line through 2 defenders to spark a near comeback. Not to be outdone, Felicia Zuccola fought off an aggressive defender early in the third to net her first goal of the season and close the gap to 5-2.

With new life, Wildcats Cameron Banks, Chris Bernazani, Sam Cedrone, Riley Fitzgerald, and Will Lawson all helped impede the Waltham shooters and pitched in with shots on the Waltham net to no avail. Nolan Vigeant made a spectacular back check to break up a Waltham rush.

Finally, feisty Jared

Russell dug the puck out of the corner and fed a pass to a speedy Kyle Collins who tenaciously pushed to the front of the Waltham net for the final Wilmington tally; his first of the season.

Waltham scored once more late in the game to beat the Wildcats 6-3, but they never quit.

The next Mite 1 game is Saturday in Burlington at 4:40 PM.

Coaches and parents are urged to send in game reports for their respective Wilmington Youth Hockey team. You may do so by sending them to: jamiapote@hotmail.com

Papageorgiou and Franklin Pierce defeat Potcner and River Hawks

Two local athletes took the soccer field on Tuesday night at UMass Lowell, and it was Franklin Pierce's Vinny Papageorgiou who emerged on top.

The junior goaltender from Wilmington made five saves in a 2-0 victory over the River Hawks. It was

VINNY PAPAGEORGIOU

Papageorgiou's second straight shutout. He is 3-1 on the season and hasn't allowed a regulation goal in three matches.

Fellow Wilmington native Stephen Potcner had four shots in the game, but the UMass Lowell senior was unable to get one past Papageorgiou.

Franklin Pierce is off until Sunday, when they travel to Connecticut to take on New Haven. UMass Lowell will look to improve its 1-3 record on Saturday at Assumption.

Wilmington senior forward

Brianne Bozzella scored the game-winning goal for the UMass Lowell women's soccer team three minutes into overtime against Bentley on Tuesday.

The River Hawks won the game 1-0, as it remained scoreless for 90 minutes of regulation time. Bozzella redirected a rebound from eight yards out to give the River Hawks the victory.

Bozzella had a strong year for the River Hawks in 2009, scoring six goals and dishing out four assists. Three of her goals were game-winners. She was also named to the 2009 Northeast-10 Conference Fall All-Academic team after sporting a 3.89 GPA.

Three local runners scored for the UMass Lowell women's cross-country team last Saturday at the Keene State Alumni Invitational.

Tewksbury's Nicole Skotz placed sixth overall for the River Hawks, who finished in second place as a team. Fellow sophomore Colleen Kennedy, a Wilmington native, finished eighth overall, third on the team. Tewksbury senior Jennifer Carr finished in 17th place, which was good enough for fifth on the team.

UMass Lowell returns to action on Sept. 18 at the UMass Dartmouth Invitational.

Rounding up news from UMass Lowell, Tewksbury's Vicky Wong had a strong day Saturday for the women's volleyball team, as she had 10 digs, seven kills and five served aces in a 3-0 win over Dominican.

Wong, a senior for the River Hawks, has played in all five of her team's games this season. UMass Lowell has a record of 3-2 and hosts Queens on Friday.

Salem State's Leah Potcner recorded her second shutout of the year for the women's soccer team in a 1-0 win over Curry College on Tuesday.

The junior goalie from Wilmington stopped all five shots in the victory. After splitting time last year behind the net, she has played every minute so far this year for the Vikings, sporting a record of 2-1-1.

Freshman Brittany McLaughlin has started off her collegiate soccer career on the right foot (literally), as she has two goals and two assists for Curry College in the team's first four games.

The forward from Wilmington scored at the 15:02 mark for the Colonels last Tuesday in their 3-2 win over Framingham State. McLaughlin's six points currently lead the team.

Tewksbury's Karla Rotondi, a senior midfielder for the Worcester State field hockey team, was named to the "All-Tournament Team" at the Dottie Zenaty Invitational earlier this month.

Rotondi scored her first goal of the year in a 3-2 loss to Springfield State. She has started in all four of her team's games so far this season.

Ernie Mello was the featured running back for the WPI football team on Saturday, carrying the ball 18 times for 78 yards in a 27-20 overtime win over Worcester State.

The junior, a Wilmington High graduate, also had a catch for six yards and returned four kicks for 75 yards.

Mello has rushed for 145 yards in two games so far for the Engineers, which is tops on the team. They will play host to Becker on Saturday.

Steve Stewart had three solo tackles for the Bentley football team in a 45-14 defeat to Central Connecticut State on Saturday.

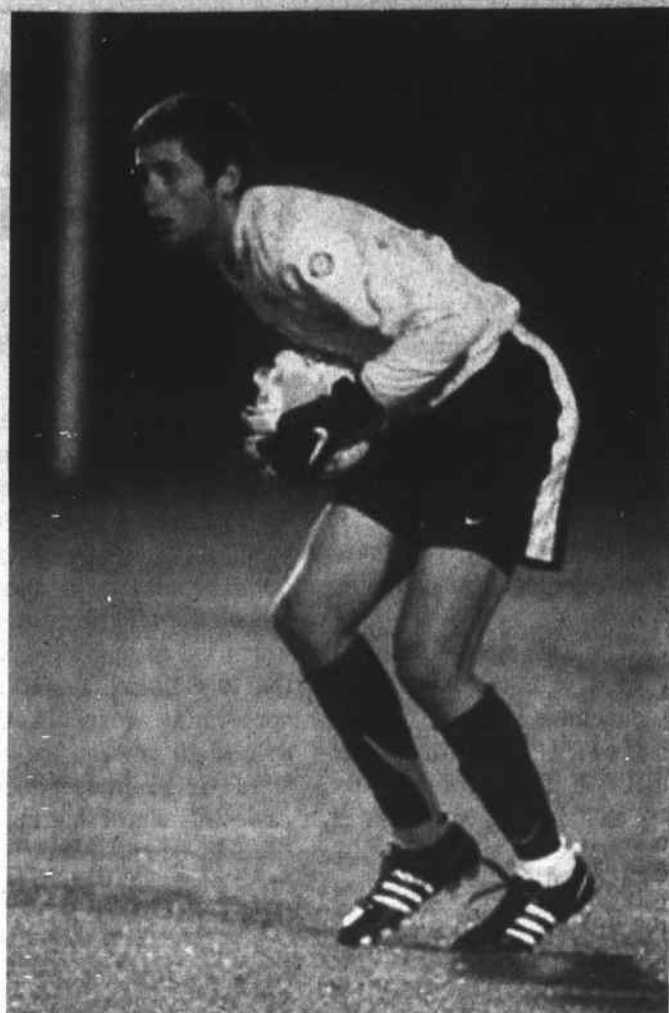

Stewart, a sophomore cornerback from Wilmington, is one of 61 returning lettermen for the Falcons, who are winless through two games. They will try to change that on Saturday when they travel to Saint Anselm College in the team's Northeast-10 Conference opener.

Tewksbury's Kaitlin Hogan had three blocks for the UMass Dartmouth women's volleyball team in its three-game sweep over Salem State on Tuesday.

The Corsairs are currently undefeated at 7-0. Hogan, a junior, has played in all seven of those contests.

Rams take down defending Super Bowl champs in opener

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

There is no telling how the rest of the season will go for the Shawsheen Tech football team, but they have already taken the first step in improving on last season's 3-8 record.

They took that step last Friday night with an impressive 12-8 season opening win over non-league rival Arlington Catholic on the road at Arlington High School.

Last year the Rams hosted the powerful Division 3 Cougars in their opening game and came up on the short end of a 34-13 score to an AC team that would go on to share the Catholic Central League title with a 9-2 record.

This year's AC team has certainly lost some talented players from that team, who also won the Division 3 Super Bowl the season before, but they are still a talented bunch and Shawsheen coach Al Costabile was proud to see his team come out on top against such a quality opponent, not to mention simply being happy to see them start the season on the right foot.

"That's a great start," Costabile said. "I was very happy to see things turn out the way they did. It is always good to get that first one out of the way."

The Rams were led on offense by the running of junior tailback Andrew Dascoli who ran 29 times or 186 yards, as well as the clutch play senior quarterback Ryan Woolaver of Tewksbury who passed for a first half touchdown and ran for a four yard score in the third quarter on a quarterback sneak.

But it was defensively where the Rams really shined, allowing only eight points and making life difficult for the AC offense all night long.

"We played great team defense. We just swarmed to the football and tackled well. They played very well," Costabile said. "We got a lot of pressure on the quarterback. When they ran the option the quarterback was getting whacked every time and when they threw he always had a hand in his face."

Playing particularly well for the Rams on defense were senior nose tackle Dave Summiel of Tewksbury along with junior linebacker Nicholas Federico. Federico finished with eight tackles and an interception, while Summiel had four tackles, a blocked punt, sack and a forced fumble.

"Dave did a real nice job for us," Costabile said. "And Federico was outstanding. We played really great pass defense overall, and Nicholas stood out with his great play."

Also playing well for the Rams on both offense and defense was senior Tony DePiano of Wilmington, who excelled for the Rams at both offensive guard as well as linebacker along with senior wide receiver/defensive back and captain Bob Greenwood of Tewksbury.

"Tony has just been great for us on both offense and defense. He is a hardworking kid and he had a real nice game for us. He really helped us out defensively," Costabile said. "And Bob has shown great leadership for us and has played well both offensively and defensively. His play at cornerback was a big part of our defense on Friday night."

The Rams got on the board first, early in the second quarter when Woolaver connected with fullback Devin Conneaney for a 13 yards scoring pass to cap a six play 63 yard drive and give the Rams a 6-0 lead after the failed two point conversion. AC would take the lead away from the Rams almost immediately when on the first play of the ensuing drive, James Conley broke free of a 59 yard touchdown run. Pat O'Donnell then ran in the extra point for an 8-6 Cougar lead.

The Rams would take the lead for good in the third quarter, and once again it was the defense who would set the tone. The Rams forced the Cougars to punt and Summiel made the biggest of his many big plays on the game, blocking the punt and setting the Rams up on the Cougars 29 yard line.

Four plays later the Rams got into the end zone again when Woolaver ran in a sneak from four yards out. Woolaver was just 3 - for - 11 for 17 yards in the game, but he came through when his team needed him most and Costabile was pleased with the senior's play.

"Ryan did very well," Costabile said. "He led the team and did all of the things you need to do to win a game. He made some nice plays on runs and did a great job on the touchdown pass. He also had the four yard sneak which is pretty good."

Matters were still not decided after the score, as AC had two more opportunities, but the Rams defense came up big and squelched them both. First they drove to about midfield, but Federico came up with an interception to stall that drive with 1:52 left in the game. AC had one last gasp after holding the Rams, but Summiel capped his big night by sacking the AC quarterback and forcing a fumble with 38 seconds left.

The Rams will look to continue their winning ways on Saturday when they take on last year's Division 4A Super Bowl champs Northeast Regional in their home opener at 1:30 at Samuel J. Cassidy Field.

Shawsheen Tech Sports Round-Up

Rams Girls Soccer team off to a flying start

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

The Shawsheen Tech girls soccer team has picked up this season right where they left off last season. After storming to a third straight CAC title last season with an undefeated mark in the league, the Lady Rams have kicked off this season in impressive fashion with a pair of 3-0 CAC victories.

Shawsheen downed Mystic Valley last Friday at home in their season opener, and followed that up with a nearly as impressive showing against North Shore on the road on Monday. Shawsheen coach Doug Michaud expected his team to get off to a fast start and they certainly lived up to those expectations.

"I am definitely happy with our start," Michaud said. "They are playing well together as a team. Today (Monday) did not go as well as Friday, but I think that is because the field was a little choppy so we did not play our best game. But we played well, and on Friday we played very well."

In Monday's win over North Shore the Lady Rams got first half goals from sophomore Kristen Carroll of Tewksbury and Erin Plunkett, and got a second half tally from Marissa Irwin to seal the victory.

Junior goalie Jen Curtis made six saves to earn the win, her second consecutive shutout. While Curtis has played well when called upon, Michaud knows it has been the efforts of his entire team that has led to the consecutive shutouts.

"It says a lot about our team defense and by that I don't just mean our defenders," Michaud said. "In a lot of cases, the ball is being stopped at midfield before it ever gets to our side".

And Michaud says that the outstanding defense has also led to the team's offense as well.

"Our passing has been great, and a lot of that is from our defense," Michaud said. "When the midfielders make plays to break up a rush they can get the ball back to our defenders and they can start setting up our offense. We are further along in our passing game this year than we have been in previous years."

In the season opening win over Mystic Valley last Friday the Lady Rams got goals from Amanda Vance as well as sophomore Arianna Medeiros of Tewksbury and freshman Rachel McLaren of Wilmington.

Michaud hopes and expects to see more good things from all three players and is particularly excited about young players like Medeiros and McLaren.

"With Arianna I expected it because she shoots the ball a lot and has a real drive for the net. She is going to score some goals for us," Michaud said. "Rachel was a bit of a surprise but I think you will probably hear a lot about her the rest of this. The two of them are playing in the middle together and doing a great job."

The Lady Rams schedule will get a little tougher in the coming week, as after they take on PMA on Wednesday they will host non-league rival Blackstone on Thursday and travel to Tyngsboro to take on Grater Lowell next Wednesday.

Golf

The Shawsheen Tech golf team also seems intent on continuing last season's success. After winning the Colonial Athletic League with a perfect 10-0 mark last season the Rams are already off to a blazing 4-0 start again this year with wins over Worcester Tech, Austin Prep, Bay Path and Nashoba Tech this past week.

The Rams started their season with a 164-200 triumph over Worcester Tech last Tuesday and followed it up with a 156-162 win over Austin Prep on Wednesday, a 161-194 win over Bay Path on Thursday and capped their week with a 157-178 win over North Shore on Monday of this week.

Junior Stephen Murphy is off to a terrific start for the Rams, shooting a 37 in the win over North Shore to tie for the overall medalist with senior Chris Deacetis. Murphy also took medalist honors in the win over Austin Prep with a 35 and has yet to shoot over 40 on the young season.

"He has been outstanding for us," Shawsheen coach Tom Struthers said. "He is the type of player where if he does not have a great day he will still shoot a 42, but when he is on his game he is just terrific. The other kids call him the robot because everything is the same one every hole. He is so consistent."

Deacetis took medalist honors against Bay Path with a 39 while Dan Jacobs and Chris Clayton shared medalist honors against Worcester Tech with each shooting a 39 in the season opening win. Struthers has enjoyed seeing multiple winners for his team in the early going.

"We seem to have different people stepping up each match," Struthers said. "We have had four different people take the low medalist in our four matches so you can't ask for much better than that. I think I have something like six kids on this team where 45 is about the highest they will score even on a tough day."

Along with the great play from the top of the lineup the Rams are also getting solid play from the middle of their lineup with senior Shane Zoloski shooting a 41 against Nashoba while Robert Cameron of Wilmington shot a 42 in the same match along with a 42 against Worcester Tech. Junior Spencer Sawicki has also been outstanding in the middle of the lineup, shooting a 42 against Worcester Tech.

"That's terrific," Struthers said. "All three of those guys are playing well. Sawicki has been shooting 38 or 39 in practice and with Robert shooting a 42 a couple of times for us we have a lot of depth."

The Rams will look to build on their winning streak on Wednesday when they host Assabet at Patriot Golf Course in Bedford.

Cross Country

Both the Shawsheen Tech boys and girls cross country teams had outstanding seasons last year, with the boys winning the CAC Championship Meet and the girls compiling a perfect 7-0 regular season record before falling in the CAC Meet to PMA.

On the boys side, the Rams lost top runner Bjorn Hanson to graduation, but return several quality runners who could once again help them compete very well in the CAC. Coach Tim Broadrick is counting on the depth of his team to carry them this season.

"The boys team was very deep last season so despite losing a runner like Hanson we have a lot of kids ready to fill his shoes," Broadrick said.

Leading that group of returnees for the Rams will be junior Dan Boudreau of Tewksbury as well as fellow Tewksbury resident and co-captain, senior Ben Bourne and senior co-captain Anthony Finn.

"Dan was usually second to Bjorn last year and had an outstanding season and Anthony was consistently in the top five last year," Broadrick said. "Ben is more of a second pack runner for us, usually finishing between fourth and eighth, but he is a captain this year and he has prepared like a coach's dream."

Sophomore Matt Mann is another top runner that Broadrick will be counting on this year.

"Matt was usually one of our top three runners most of last year," Broadrick said. "He's just a sophomore but he is going to be very good this year. He is part of a strong sophomore class that last year when they were just freshmen dominated the CAC and voke JV meets."

There will certainly be plenty of competition for the top of the CAC, but he is confident his team has what it takes to compete with them.

"Chelsea is the team to beat these days. It used to be Greater Lawrence and they are still strong, but Chelsea has moved to the top," Broadrick said. "Whittier is also going to be thought to beat and Mystic has been strong so I expect them to be good again. We'll see what happens when we get started this week."

There are a few more questions on the girls side, where the Lady Rams lost some key runners including Tewksbury residents Alyssa Mooney and Abby Pinard, who had led the team the past three seasons.

"We did not lose a lot of kids, but we lost some key kids," Broadrick said. "Alyssa was the league MVP her junior year and a Lowell Sun All-Star last year. She won every meet except one so we will certainly miss her and Abby as well."

Returning to help the Lady Rams cause this year will be senior captain Johanne LeGrand who was not quite as Mooney's level last year, but is looking to take that next step this season.

"Johanne had a good state meet last year and during the second half of last season she was kind of nipping at Alyssa's heels."

Senior Jessica Goodhue of Tewksbury along with junior Christen Alperta will also be counted on for some big contributions this season.

"Jessica has been on the edge of the top five before and she prepped well this summer. She is ready to go," Broadrick said. "Christen ran her freshman year, but she had a hip injury last year. She has looked good so far this year."

Broadrick feels that the CAC is wide open, with PMA, Greater Lowell and Mystic Valley all having quality squads, but he knows nothing will be determined until he actually sees the teams in action.

"It's impossible to tell until you see kids in a meet situation," Broadrick said. "On the girls side, I only really know about a third of the kids because most of them are new. It will be interesting to see how they do."

"If we advertise it, we'll have it when you get here.....it's easy, it's honest, and it's guaranteed"

Wilmington Pop Warner teams open up fall season

A Team

The Wilmington Pop Warner A Football team put together an impressive 24-0 victory over the Lexington Raiders this past weekend.

The first offensive series started with ball being handed to Matt Penney who took off down the left side behind a brigade of blocking lead by Austin Ferreira, Aaron Harrington, Ryan Broderick and Nick Cimaglia of the offensive line for a 50-plus yard touchdown.

The Wildcat defense held strong. With the presence of Joseph Scurto at Safety, The Lexington Raiders were forced to run the ball only to be denied by the defensive force of Zack Toto, Andrew Lesperance, Jon Roberts, Michael Amato and Defensive End Zachary Lord.

Jomikason Beray followed suite with an option run left and dashed quickly down the sidelines for the second touchdown followed with an extra point kicked by James O'Regan.

Called to task again, the defense answered the bell. Robert Fullerton, Nate Vince, and Michael Daley pounded the offensive line of Lexington and consistently putting pressure on the quarterback of the Raiders. The Wilmington offense and defense was nothing short of phenomenal.

The Wildcats forced a first down on a long fourth-and-six behind the hard running and tough blocking of Kyle Callahan and Antonio Larfarello.

The scoring was complete after a bomb down the right hand side delivered by Quarterback James O'Regan to the tight end Connor Bennett resulting in a touchdown. Zack Lord came in at quarterback and never missed a beat as the Cats continued to control the ball the second half.

The shutout was secured by the tenacious defensive play by Peter Daley, Ryan Adams, and John Irizarry.

B Team

The Wilmington Pop Warner B Team, under the direction of Head Coach John Maga and assistant coach Alex Miliano had a tough game against Lexington-Bedford 28-0 in its home opener, despite a valiant effort by the team.

The team has been practicing since August 2nd, and has already scrimmaged five times with various teams. This game, on Sunday, turned out to be a small bump in the road for a bunch of kids that have worked so hard for the past month, giving it their all on the practice field.

Lexington-Bedford started out the game throwing the ball, but the Wildcats stepped up quick. After a few completions, the defensive secondary of Brian Neal, Joe Pineau, John Pasquariello, Brad Gilbert, Harry Middleton and John Reynolds made the visitors pay by knocking the ball loose every time a Lexington-Bedford receiver ran free.

The Wilmington linebackers, led by Thomas Magee, Tommy Simmons and Dylan Masiello stepped up and stuffed the running plays that Lexington-Bedford threw at them. The Defensive line was led by Johnny Maga and other contributors were Defensive Tackles Anthony Ferrara, Fox Maxwell, James Carroll, David Woods and Taylor Dipentino, as well as defensive ends Alex Hilz, Cody Wile and Joe Visalli. A second quarter interception by Dylan Masiello sparked the defense just before half-time.

On Offense the multiple running attack of Dylan Masiello, John Reynolds, John Pasquariello and Brian Neal were driving the ball, despite facing a deficit. Joe Pineau played solid at quarterback, keeping the offensive team moving throughout the first half and quarterback Joe Visalli moved the team through much of the second half, but the team fell short on a huge fourth and one late in the fourth quarter while driving deep in to Lexington-Bedford territory.

John Reynolds, John Pasquariello, and Dylan Masiello picked up many key first downs on long runs, but it didn't turn out to be enough. Brian Neal made a key reception to keep an important drive moving. Dylan Masiello ran tough on the inside, gaining many tough yards.

John Reynolds showed exceptional speed and evasiveness running the ball on many huge gains and John Pasquariello picked up a lot of huge, short yardage gains. The blocking as provided by David Woods, Anthony Ferrara, John Maga, Taylor Dipentino, Thomas Magee, Fox Maxwell and James Carroll as well as ends Cody Wile, Harry Middleton and Tommy Simmons.

Inactive for the game were Boston Petrie and Brandon Spight, because of injury.

C Team

The Wilmington Pop Warner C Team had a tough opening game against the Lexington Raiders Sunday morning as they dropped their home opener 28-6.

The Lexington Raiders scored on their first three possessions of the first half, while Wilmington's offense struggled to only gain a handful of first downs.

Wilmington's offense got on track in the second half by completing a 46 yard drive that ended up with a QB run up the middle from two yards out by Bobby Gostanian. The drive was highlighted by several strong running plays by running backs Sam Jennings, Charley Minghella, Scott Newton, and David Bailey, and one 15-yard pass play from Bobby Gostanian to Sam Jennings.

But 19-6 was as close as Wilmington would get in this game, as the Lexington Raiders completed a long kick-off return and scored on a 10 yard TD pass play to close out the scoring at the end of the third quarter.

There was no scoring in the fourth quarter as the Wilmington Wildcat C-Team dropped to 0-1 on the new season.

D1

Wilmington D1 Wildcats showed up to ready to play on Sunday, defeating Lexington 26-0.

On their first offensive possession, the Wildcats took the field led by QB Robbie DuCharme. With the superior blocking of Matt Hersom, Jonathon Simmons, Connor MacKenzie, Kyle Penney, and Tyler Roberts, running backs Blake Hiltz, Braden Hiltz, Graham Smith, and Xavier Warren marched down the field. DuCharme completed a key fourth down pass to Warren for a 15 yard gain. The drive resulted in a touchdown run by Warren.

The Wildcat defense shut down the Lexington offense all day. Strong defensive line play by Andrew Sullivan, Darren LeBlanc, Sean Devlin, and Matt Amentola was too much for the Raiders.

On the next offensive possession, the Wildcats again drove down the field, and QB Tommy Robarge's handoff to Graham Smith resulted in a 15-yard touchdown run.

Wilmington's defense again came out strong. Key plays by Connor Benoit, Michael Daley, Ethan Dipentino and Joe McInney, and a key interception by Michael DuCharme, once again shut down the Lexington offense.

Offensively, RB Xavier Warren had a 75-yard touchdown run, and Andrew Sullivan also scored a two-yard touchdown with the quarterback sneak.

The Wilmington D1 Wildcats play their next game Sunday at home.

D-2

The Wilmington D2 Pop Warner Football Team put up a great defensive effort against Chelmsford but unfortunately dropped a close decision 6-0 in their season opener.

The team moved the ball offensively in the first half but turnovers proved costly for the Wildcats. John Kenney led the offense with 80 yards rushing on the day but the team failed to put the ball in the end zone.

The Wilmington defense was strong all day. The defense was led by Defensive Linemen Frankie Irizarry (3 tackles, a sack and a forced fumble), Linebackers Pat Carroll (4 tackles) and Joey Dumoulin (2 tackles and a fumble recovery) and Defensive Backs John Kenney (3 tackles) and Riley McCue (2 tackles and a forced fumble).

The defense stopped the Chelmsford offense twice on their goal-line before finally giving up a score late in the second half.

E2 Mighty Mites

With just six returning players from last year's team, the E2 Mitey Mites came out strong vs. Chelmsford in their season opener Sunday.

Many different players, including Connor McCabe, Connor Paquette, Jared Russell and CJ Petrie, carried the ball for positive yardage on offense. Quarterback, Tristan Ciampa, ran a sweep to the left for an exciting 31 yards and the first Wilmington touchdown.

With great blocking up front by center, Anthony Bowker, and linemen Derek Gallucci, Andrew Gallucci, Jaime Alarcon, Andrew O'Brien, and Michael Steen, running back Brian Gallucci was able to hustle ten yards into the end zone for second score of the day.

Not to be outdone, the defense caused two fumbles and three sacks. One fumble was recovered by Camden Kenyon in the end zone as time ran out in the first half for the third Wildcats touchdown. An aggressive Alex Fiorenza recovered another fumble by Chelmsford.

The opposing quarterback was sacked three times by Owen Steen, Ryan Martin and Tristan Ciampa.

Late in the second half, after a long run down the sideline, Cameron Banks was able to finish off the drive with an eight yard scamper for the fourth and final score of the day for the Wildcats.

Winchester Hospital's Community Health Institute Yoga for Kids

WINCHESTER — Winchester Hospital's Community Health Institute is now offering Yoga for Kids, a class combining the flow of movement with coordination of breathing. This process calms and focuses the mind, stretches and strengthens the body, and positively affects energy in a fun and lively manner.

The class will teach traditional yoga poses so children may gain insight into how the body works, learn to control breathing, and take time to calm their minds and bodies. Classes end with quiet time that allows children to relax and observe how they feel.

Yoga for Kids is suitable for children ages 6 to 10. It is especially recommended for children with asthma, allergies, or those who could benefit from learning quieting, calming practices.

The five-week Yoga for Kids class series will be held on Mondays, 3:30 to 4:30 p.m., from Sept. 20 through Oct. 25 (with no class on Oct. 11) in the first floor Keating Conference Room at Baldwin Park I, 12 Alfred Street in Woburn. The fee is $75, with a maximum of 10 children per class.

For more information or to register, please call the Community Health Institute at (781) 756-4700 or visit www.winchesterhospital.org. Go to Programs and Services and click Class Registration.

Winchester Hospital's Community Health Institute is committed to helping community members take responsibility for their health and well-being by offering the education and resources that change lives. Established in 1996, the Community Health Institute provides more than 30 programs and services throughout the year, with offerings in disease management, childbirth, integrative therapies, fitness, yoga, Tai Chi/Qi Gong, CPR and first aid, weight management, career services and support groups. Reality series may feature Reading native

THE EAST COAST BIKER CHICKS CLUB
FOUNDER AND READING NATIVE
LOUISA "LUCKY" BELCAMINO.

By PAUL FEELY

With any luck, television viewers may soon be able to watch a reality series focusing on the travels of an all-female motorcycle club, headed up by a Reading native.

'Biker Chic' is a documentary television series created by biker, TV producer and author Edward Winterhalder, that features the colorful, entertaining and engaging women who are members of an all-female motorcycle club known as the "East Coast Biker Chicks" (ECBC).

The club has members living in southern Maine, Rhode Island, southern New Hampshire, eastern Massachusetts, eastern Connecticut, southern Vermont and Pennsylvania.

The East Coast Biker Chicks club was founded by Reading native Louisa "Lucky" Belcamino.

"Eight of my good friends and I used to ride as guests of another womens club in the Boston area during some charity and events over a few years, and my friends coerced me into starting our own club, jokingly at first, to get some T-shirts made up with a name on them for riding purposes," said Belcamino.

"But I took it a step further and got the name from a 3 a.m. epiphany during some quiet time, and bought the Domain name and built a website from a 20.00 piece of software called Webeasy and the East Coast Biker Chicks were hatched and our first year we had over 36 members. We now, as of this date, have three chapters up and running (in Boston, Maine, Northeastern Pennsylvania).

"A member of the Biker Chicks who lives in southern Massachusetts came to me two years ago and asked for my blessing to start her own little club with some friends close to her home area, and wanted to know if I would help her get it started as she didn't think there would be enough to form a chapter in her area.

"So, with that said, I gave her advice and helped with paper work and they are called New England Thunder and are a sister club of ours and we do a lot of rides together. So, as you can see, we are bikers helping other bikers."

Set in the Boston area, the series will chronicle the daily lives and activities of a group of empowered women from all walks of life: a social worker, a scientist, a stock trader, a computer guru, a chiropractor, a debt collector, a physical trainer, a mortgage broker and others who are in many ways average everyday typical American women.

The women are bound together by their independence, love of motorcycles and the open road, and the camaraderie and fellowship which the ECBC provides.

Belcamino developed a love for motorcycles and motorcycle riding at an early age.

"I started as a little girl when my family used to visit family friends who had a cow farm in Dracut and their son had a Honda 50 Minibike and I would go out on it all day and come back when it was dark," said Belcamino. "I also had a liking to Go Karts when I was younger too, making one with my Dad in the back yard - no motor, just the old fashioned push kind with rope for steering. I found the highest street in the neighborhood and would try to go as fast as I could. I think I found my love for speed and wheels from these both experiences." That initial fascination quickly turned to a passion for the open road.

"The passion throughout the years is something that was natural for me," said Belcamino. "I love the independence associated with the freedom to ride your own per se - and love the individualism associated with getting on a bike and riding by yourself or with the chicks."

Biker Chic will focus on the positive aspects of the Harley-Davidson biker lifestyle and is being produced by an Oklahoma production company, Blockhead City Entertainment.

"Our intention is to produce a happy, feel good television series that will be enjoyable to watch, and realistically capture the true nature of bikers, their spirit and the Harley lifestyle - this series will be just the opposite of what you see in shows like Sons of Anarchy and Gangland," said Executive Producer Edward Winterhalder.

Winterhalder, a biker personality, author and the creator of the Biker Chic TV series, has been riding Harleys since 1974. One of the world's leading authorities on bikers, motorcycle clubs and the Harley-Davidson biker lifestyle; his books about the biker lifestyle are published in multiple languages and sold all over the world.

"Because I have lived the biker lifestyle myself for more than thirty-five years, I feel confident that I can accurately capture for TV what really goes on in the life of a biker on a day-to-day basis," he said.

Belcamino is excited to be a part of this ground breaking concept.

"Thank God someone is finally going to show the

Movie Reviews

by Paul Feely

"Resident Evil: Afterlife" is mindless

This video game franchise is back with another mindless movie that has no-hum 3D, "RESIDENT EVIL: AFTERLIFE". In this, the latest chapter of the "Resident Evil" series the world has been ravaged by a virus infection. Alice (Milla Jovovich) continues trying to find survivors.

"RESIDENT EVIL: AFTERLIFE"
GRADE: **

This video game franchise appears to be as undead as the zombies that populate its storylines, but why moviegoers keep coming back for more is anyone's guess.

In this, the latest chapter of the 'Resident Evil' series (based on the popular video game), the world has been ravaged by a virus infection, turning its victims into the Undead, and Alice (Milla Jovovich) continues on her journey to find survivors and lead them to safety. Her deadly battle with the Umbrella Corporation reaches new heights, but Alice gets some unexpected help from an old friend.

A new lead that promises a safe haven from the Undead leads them to Los Angeles, but when they arrive the city is overrun by thousands of Undead and Alice and her comrades are about to walk into a deadly trap.

This entry marks the return of Paul W.S. Anderson as director (after taking the helm of the first film, he stepped aside and produced the last two), shooting this one in 3D, a feature that will likely pad the pockets of the movie studio, but doesn't necessarily add anything new to the film overall.

After its big opening (an all-out assault on the Umbrella Corporation's underground base, led by Alice), the film becomes a loving tribute to George Romero's Dawn Of The Dead, but with the group of survivors holed up in an old prison instead of a shopping mall.

As for the 3D, it's ama-teurish at best. The number of guns that are thrown towards the screen in slow motion becomes laughable. This can't be what the creators of this technology had in mind when they developed it.

It's mindless entertainment, which is exactly the way the Umbrella-created zombies hope to leave you - without a brain.

"THE AMERICAN"
GRADE: ***

"The American", a slow-moving, intelligent thriller, is less about the death that fills the life of a professional assassin (played by George Clooney), and more about the life he still harbors in his soul.

There is enough action, intrigue and suspense in "The American," the spare, tightly-wound new thriller starring George Clooney. But I think the scene in the park is where the film's true heart lies. This is less the story of a man who kills for a living, than what that life has extracted from his soul.

Clooney plays Jack (but sometimes he is called Edward, sometimes Mr. Butterfly) is a man of precision who keeps his emotions locked up tight. He works at his profession in a cold and calculating manner - on display in no better way than it is in the first mission we see Jack on in Sweden. His lack of feeling is almost scary.

One of the best scenes in the movie, which involves no action at all, focuses on Jack and a close friend, a priest, walking through an Italian park talking about sin.

The priest asks the man if he would like to confess. Jack says he has good reasons for everything he's done, and reverses the situation by pressing the priest about his own shortcomings.

It's a great scene, and allows Clooney to show his ability as an actor - he spends much of the rest of the movie squinting his eyes and tightening his jaw. He is clearly a man who has grown afraid of attachment.

An old friend tells him "Don't make any friends, Jack, you used to know that."

Of course, he does - he starts to get a little too close to a prostitute he frequents, Clara (Violante Placido), and the real trouble starts for him.

Director Anton Corbijn ("Control") does a good job keeping the tension at a high edge, and "The American" is a good late-summer take because of it.

"THE LAST EXORCISM"
GRADE: ***

"The Last Exorcism" is a good horror movie that could have bordered on great, if it had carried the same level of intensity right on through to its conclusion.

Director Daniel Stamm has put together what amounts to a fake documentary that contains supposedly "found" footage, and tells the story of a preacher who thinks exorcisms are fake and unnecessary, and documents what he believes will be an exorcism that will prove to the world he is right.

The film has terrific performances, more humor than you would expect in this type of film, a few genuine scares - and a terrible ending, one that all-too-easily and nicely wraps things up in a neat little bow before the credits roll. It doesn't negate the good things that have gone before, but it cheapens the experience.

Patrick Fabian plays the Rev. Cotton Marcus, who comes from a long line of preachers but is more of a showman than anything else. The movie does a good job of setting up Marcus' story, so well that you actually end up feeling for him, in spite of his cynicism.

Bell is outstanding as Nell. How could she possibly be doing the things she's accused of?

The actors made the most of what they were given to work with - if only the writers had penned a more believable ending, this could have been considered a classic.

Run for Kelli Murray Wilmington's 6th Annual Road Race

Please join the family and friends of Kelli Murray at Wilmington's 6th Annual Road Race hosted by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce. The race will include a Half Marathon (13.1 miles) and 5k Run/Walk (3.1 miles) on Sunday, September 26th at 10AM in front of WCTV at 10 Waltham Street. There is still time to register. Forms are available at www.wilmingtonbusiness.com or register on-line at www.runreg.com.

In honor of Kelli, The Wilmington Chamber of Commerce will donate a portion of the proceeds via a scholarship in Kelli's name to a Wilmington High School Student.

Additional donations can be made directly to the Kelli Murray Scholarship Fund c/o Enterprise Bank, 1120 Main Street, Tewksbury, MA 01876. You can also show your personal support by making a donation for a special customized T-shirt the day of the race with Kelli's specialized "star logo" on it.

Kelli passed away suddenly at the young age of 40 on June 25, 2010. She is missed dearly by her husband, Joe and five beautiful children. Her death has inspired positive action out of this unspeakable tragedy. This race is just one example of our community spirit.

So many remember Kelli for her sweet nature and devotion to her family and friends. She was always helping others whether it was volunteering at her children's school and sporting events, teaching CCD at St. Thomas Church, or lending a hand to someone in need.

Her family misses her immensely; she will always be remembered in their minds and held dearly in their hearts.

Let's pull together in support of a wonderful family. We hope to see you there.

LYNNFIELD WAY UP

According to information provided by the Massachusetts Association of Realtors (MAR), home sales in Lynnfield - during the first half of this year - have more than doubled compared to the same period last year.

Fifty-six single-family houses were sold between January 1 and June 30; last year, only 25 had been involved.

This year's median price rose 20 percent to $528,500 compared to the first half of last year's median cost of $440,000.

Compared to the state's, Lynnfield's real estate market is booming. Statistics show that through the first half of 2010, single-family home sales were up 32 percent versus last year's; and median selling prices were up 6 percent, to $310,000.

Condo sales have also been strong, and the numbers continued to improve through July.

Most homes in the Lynnfield market range between $300,000 and $600,000. Home and condo sales are also up throughout Massachusetts, especially compared to the recent past. MORE THAN WELCOME IN TEWKSBURY

If you enjoy being around books, would like to learn more about libraries, or need to complete community service hours for school or church, you would be more than welcome to volunteer at the Tewksbury Public Library or to join its 'friends.'

Volunteers need to be 14 years of age or older and ready to help out in such areas as cleaning, shelving, shelf reading, and shifting, all explained on the library's website.

For more information on volunteering, contact Freya Sanger at 978-640-4490, extension 207.

The Friends of the Tewksbury Public Library also have opportunities in a whole other arena for those interested. Please check the website for more information. PAYING IT FORWARD IN WINCHESTER

January 2011: just past the cornucopia and around the corner.

"Two members of the Energy Management Committee, Susan McPhee and Bill Swanton, recently came by the Board of Selectmen meeting with a reorganization request, a status report on renewable projects and an overview of state energy policy/grants," notes the Winchester edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"In regards to reorganizing, McPhee and Swanton, along with acting Town Manager Mary Ellen Lannon, asked that the selectmen reduce the size of the Energy Management Committee as follows: DPW Facilities Manager - non-voting member; DPW Business Manager - non-voting member; Energy Conservation Coordinator - non-voting member; one member representing the schools, designated by the superintendent; one member representing EFPBC, designating by its chair; one member representing the Finance Committee, designated by its chair; one member representing the Capital Planning Committee, designated by its chair; and three members appointed by the Board of Selectmen for three-year terms.

"This would create a committee consisting of seven voting members (reduced from 11) and three non-voting members, with the three non-voters participating in all scheduled meetings. Four members would be required for a quorum.

"The board voted, instead, to appoint four members...

"McPhee noted that the first auctions of SRECs will take place in January 2011.

"The fed also has a program that gives a 30 percent tax incentive for solar energy. McPhee said the rebate can currently be taken in a lump sum. However, starting Jan. 1, 2011, it must be amortized over a number of years...

"McPhee said the next steps are to search for grant opportunities to make the Ambrose/DPW projects more economical, investigate connections with NStar for the Transfer Station project, work toward releasing an RFP for Ambrose/DPW work ..., and meet with the School Committee to update the progress.

"The selectmen voted unanimously that the EMC support the town's efforts to qualify as a Green Community."

Come figure skate with the Learn To Figure Skate Club

The Learn To Figure Skate Club located at the Stoneham Arena at 101 Montvale Avenue in Stoneham would like to invite everyone who is looking for a figure skating program to join in at the Stoneham Arena for group lessons on Saturdays at 1 PM or Sundays at 2 PM.

The Learn to Figure Skate Club was established in September 1978 to promote the sport of amateur figure skating. This is a family run program for over 25 years.

Here's a great opportunity for children 4 1/2 yrs. or older to learn to skate on a U.S.F.S.A. Basic Badge Program. Each class includes a 25-minute lesson and a 25-minute practice.

The Badge Program encompasses the fundamental of figure skating (Basic 1-8) for the beginner skater, and freestyle skating (Freestyle 1-6) for the intermediate and advanced.

Group, semi-private, and private classes are typically offered for 9-11 weekly sessions beginning in September, November, and January.

All sessions are pro-rated to allow the flexibility of joining at any time. Group skaters enrolled in the Winter or Spring sessions are eligible to participate in the Club's Annual Ice Revue in April—a full-scale production showcasing talent of our group and private skaters.

MIDDLESEX EAST WEEKLY TRIVIA: Who is credited with scoring the first run in major league baseball history? Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

SENIOR FORWARD SAMMY MACY (TEWKSBURY, MASS.) notched 12 points on the No. 3 River Hawks' 3-0 opening week, while freshman goalkeeper Melanie Hopkins (Harwich, Mass.) played all 210 minutes in the cage without allowing a single goal by opponents.

The squad opened its season with a 6-0 victory over Mansfield at home on Friday evening and followed up the performance with another 6-0 win, this time over No. 8 Indiana (Pa.) on Sunday. Still in Pennsylvania, the River Hawks capped off the week with a 1-0 shutout of Millersville on Monday afternoon.

Macy broke multiple school records with her offensive explosion of five goals and an assist for 11 points in the trampling of Indiana (Pa.) on Sunday. Her five goals improved her career total to 66, making her the all-time leading goal scorer in program history, surpassing Sarah Hohenberger, who had previously set the record with

64. The tri-captain also contributed an assist in the home-opener, bringing her total to five goals and a pair of assists during the three-game spread. Macy began last season as the Player of the Week, as well, and is the reigning NE-10 Player of the Year. She is the daughter of Doug and Mary Macy of Tewksbury, Mass.

Hopkins tallied three shutouts in as many games, refusing opponents a single goal in her young collegiate career. She made 20 saves in her first three games, including a personal-best 10 saves in the 6-0 win over Indiana (Pa.).

Hopkins, a product of Harwich High School, is the daughter of Julie Ann Hopkins of Harwich, Mass. and JOHN HOPKINS, SR. OF WAKEFIELD, MASS.

She kept her squad in the 1-0 decision against Millersville on Monday, as well, while classmate RACHEL MCCARTHY (READING, MASS.) notched the lone goal of the afternoon to lift the River Hawks to victory. For her efforts, McCarthy was named to the Northeast-10 Weekly Honor Roll. The forward also added an assist in the season opener against Mansfield.

•Dominican College

scored two goals in the first nine minutes of the second half and never looked back en route to a 3-0 victory over UMass Lowell Tuesday in a non-conference men's soccer clash in Orangeburg, N.Y.

With the loss, UMass Lowell slipped to 0-2-0 thus far entering Saturday's non-conference match against the University of Bridgeport (1:00) at Cushing Field. Dominican improved to 2-1-0.

Following a scoreless first half, junior M Alan Heavey broke the drought just over four minutes into the second half when he converted from just inside the six-yard line from freshman F Jorge Zubillaga.

Just four minutes later, sophomore M Sony Narro headed home a corner kick from sophomore M Pedro Franklin de Araujo.

Junior M John Langdon added an insurance goal in the 81st minute when his unassisted strike from the edge of the 18-yard box eluded junior GK Matt Lavery (Nashua, N.H.) into the low right corner of the goal.

"In the first half we had three or four great chances that we just missed or scuffed," said UML Head Coach Bryan Scales. "We were doing fine. But after that first goal it was heavy sledding for us. They put us under a lot of pressure and we couldn't break that rhythm. We'll just have to regroup and get ready for the next one."

UMass Lowell's best opportunity came in the 20th minute when senior F STEPHEN POTCNER (WILMINGTON, MASS.) broke free and roped a shot straight at junior GK Brandon Heembrock, which he parried. The rebound, however, came back to Potcner, but his header went over the bar.

The Chargers outshot the River Hawks, 15-12 overall and 4-3 on target. Lavery had one save for the River Hawks while Heembrock had three saves for Dominican.

•Need some help with this week's question? His initials are W.F.

SENIOR F BRIANNE BOZZELLA (WILMINGTON, MASS.) scored the lone goal 3 minutes, 36 seconds into overtime as UMass Lowell defeated Bentley College, 1-0, Tuesday afternoon in a Northeast-10 Conference women's soccer opener in Waltham.

With the victory, UMass Lowell evened its record to 1-1-1 entering Friday night's pivotal clash against No. 3 Saint Rose (7:00), the River Hawks fourth match in a nine-day stretch. Bentley slipped to 0-1-0.

All three of UMass Lowell's matches this season have reached overtime. On Thursday, the River Hawks played to a 0-0 deadlock in double overtime with C.W. Post and followed with a 2-1 OT loss Saturday to the University of Bridgeport.

"We kept a shutout away from home and started the NE-10 schedule on a positive note," said UML Head Coach Elie Monteiro. "We got three points that were well deserved. We were pleased to leave Waltham with a 'W', which was the goal to being with."

Junior M Amy Cramer (Marlboro, Mass.) was the catalyst for the goal as she played the ball to Bozzella, whose initial shot was stopped by Bentley goalkeeper Kara Smith. Bozzella, however, picked up the rebound and tucked it past Smith from eight yards out for the game-winner.

The River Hawks outshot the Falcons 20-5 overall and 10-4 on target. Smith had nine saves for Bentley while freshman Micaela Butlin (Milton, Mass.) scored her second shutout of the season with four saves.

ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION: Wes Fislir is credited with scoring Major League Baseball's first run on April 22, 1876 while playing for the Philadelphia Athletics. 1876 was the last year of existence for the Philadelphia Athletics.

world that bikers are ordinary people from all walks of life; regular people that have families and jobs, who enjoy riding Harleys in their spare time and giving back to the communities in which they live when they can," Lucky said.

The way she and the rest of the ECBC became involved in the show is an interesting story.

"I was contacted via email by Winterhalter," said Belcamino. "He told me he had filmed some Vietnam Vets in PA for a docu-reality show called 'Living on the Edge' and he was actively searching for an exclusive womens club to do filming for a prototype he was putting together called 'Biker Chic,' and we became involved in that after I checked out his credentials and thought it would be something that would be fun, and possible exposure for all the good things we do for charities and area events, so with that said we have been filming all summer and continuing to do so through the end of October for future episodes."

The process of filming such a show was an eye-opening one for both Lucky and the members of her group.

"There are no retakes - it's true reality TV with, of course, editing," said Belcamino. "No staging - raw footage. It's been fun but tiring being on camera I must say, and having all your little quirks out there for the possible world to see. It's quite humbling - little old me from Reading - it's overwhelming but it's been a great opportunity."

Lucky has many memories of her days in Reading, though now she lives in the central part of the state.

"I grew up on Hancock Street down from Parker Junior High with my seven older brothers and sister," said Belcamino.

"The neighborhood was a close knit family back then, somewhat like the Biker Chic family now. I was a four sport Varsity athlete at RMHS and couldn't imagine growing up in a town any better than Reading. My aunts, uncles and cousins were mostly all from Reading too, so my family was very well known and still is."

"My father was the Commander of the American Legion for many years before his passing and one of my brothers, Anthony, who still resides in Reading was his predecessor. I do get back to Reading as often as I can. I visit Mom, Dad and my sister Rosalie at the Charles Lawn Cemetery and update them on my escapades as much as I can when I visit the area."

"As far as changes, I probably will never get used to the new construction on Main Street. I always have fond memories of Woolworths and the Light Podium in the middle of the street. Just driving through the area makes me proud to have been a part of a great community."

The show has yet to be picked up by any network, but Belcamino and her producer have high hopes it will soon. A sneak preview of the first episode will be aired at a private showing event at the Kowloon Restaurant in Saugus on Sunday, Sept. 26 from 2-6 p.m.

"Edward is in negotiations with multi level platforms for the purchase of Biker Chic," said Belcamino. "Right now it's in the acquisition stages and hopefully soon there will be a major announcement."

World War II veteran Ernie Phillips and daughter Martha Dupuis were impressed with the elegant, homey atmosphere of Longwood Place at Reading. But they were won over by the neighborly residents and caring staff.

Martha met a resident whose veteran background matched her father's. "I knew Dad would have men to talk to." Ernie connected with the veteran-healthcare staff, who eased his transition from home. "I felt warmth, security and acceptance immediately."

which could just as easily be furnished as a home office. Shelves and a desk are built in.

Informal living spaces are at the rear. Two sets of French or atrium doors brighten the great room all year round and can be left open in summer. A fireplace, flanked by built-in shelving, provides warmth and color in winter.

The large country kitchen has all of the most popular amenities: large work island, walk-in pantry, built-in appliances, windowed eating nook, and a corner sink with a view. The three-season porch is perfect for protected outdoor dining. Utilities, basement stairs, and a small powder room are close to the Charleston's center of activity.

Double doors open into a good-sized vaulted owners' suite. Features here include a huge walk-in closet, optional deck access, and a two-section bathroom with dual vanity and oversized shower. Two upstairs bedrooms share a bathroom. The front-facing room has a walk-in closet and an arched window that could be outfitted with a window seat.

This Week's Sampler: The Charleston

Charleston has a stylish front façade

Arched windows put a contemporary spin on the Charleston, a country-style home complete with gables and a wrap-around porch. The placement of parlor and dining room on both sides of the entry is traditional, but the entryway, with its lofty two-story ceiling, is not. The great room and dining room have high ceilings too, in the 12-14 foot range. Clerestory windows in the entry and dining room provide extra illumination.

Columns and arches mark the boundaries of the bayed dining room. Double doors close to provide complete privacy in the parlor,
